O'Reilly joins the Liberal sweep

by MARTHA PERKINS

Haliburton
and LINDA SHUTT,
LEN PIZZEY

John O'Reilly will be part of the Liberal majority government which will soon take over the House of Commons.

With 83 percent of the polls tallied, as of 1 a.m. Tuesday morning, the first-time Liberal candidate won handily by 3,000. His total vote in Victoria-Haliburton was 16,486.

But if it hadn't been for the split vote between the Progressive Conservatives and Reformers, O'Reilly would not be on his way to Ottawa. Another political newcomer, Reformer Barry Devolin, came in second with 13,144. PC Lorne Chester, who took over the riding's candidacy after long-time MP Bill Scott retired last spring, was third with 10,281 votes.

As nearly every poll indicates, if the "right wing" vote had not been split between the Reform and Conservative parties, this riding would have continued with its strong conservative tradition. A Liberal has held the seat only once in the riding's federal history, and that was back in 1935 to 1945.

"It's been a long time," O'Reilly told a joyous crowd at his Lindsay headquarters last night. He says the campaign drew attention to the Liberals' agenda of getting Canadians back to work. The majority Liberal government will now be able to work towards that goal nationally. Locally, "Victoria-Haliburton must be put back on the map for economic growth."

He promises to be available and work for the good of the riding. "I'll be there."

Devolin was one of the first candidates to concede defeat, visiting O'Reilly at the Liberal headquarters by 10:30. "I'm a Canadian," the exhausted and disappointed Reform candidate graciously said. "I wish Mr. Chretien well and I wish Mr. O'Reilly well."

As he expected, Devolin won approximately 30 percent of the votes. But he thought that would be enough to win the riding, and wasn't expecting the Liberals' strong showing. "It's reassuring that we reached a significant number of voters but second place doesn't mean very much."

He's not sure what his future plans will be, and whether they include working with the party in a non-elected capacity in Ottawa.

Stanhope residents are urged to organize community policing

by LINDA SHUTT
Staff Reporter

Since January the 15 patrol officers at the Minden OPP detachment have responded to 2,290 "occurrences". That's more than 150 calls per officer - and that doesn't include traffic accidents and community service work.

With investigation time, paper work and court appearances, each case consumes an average of 10 hours of work.

For a police force facing tighter budgets and continued staffing cut backs (the Minden detachment is operating three officers short of its assessed complement) the co-operation of the public is becoming more vital.

That's just one of the reasons Sgt. Doug Bernardi spoke at a meeting at Stanhope firehall last Thursday evening.

"Community policing can help us," said Bernardi. "But it can also address what you have to say, and maybe make the quality of life that much better."

Bernardi spoke to an audience of 20 people who met to discuss the idea of setting up a community policing organization in Stanhope.

The association would promote better relations between the police and the public, act as a liaison between the two and work on programs that would benefit the community.

Bernardi and Constable Mike Landry, the Minden detachment's community services officer, gave an outline of how an association can work and what it can get done.

Landry helped establish the successful Haliburton association, which has 45 members and does everything from traffic control at parades to organizing children's bicycle safety programs.

The public can act as the extra eyes and ears of the police force as well as developing some practical programs of assistance to both the police and public, such as safety and security programs.

But Bernardi emphasized an association is run by the public not the police.

"It's not from the top down. It has to start from the bottom up. You can identify your problems and facilitate your problem solving."

Some of the ideas raised at the meeting included installation of signs for the identification of roads and houses, thereby helping emergency response teams.

Another was a merchants' alert. Bernardi gave as an example a scam involving phony $50 bills this past summer. A merchants'

Planning gets reprieve

County votes to keep planner on the payroll

by LINDA SHUTT
Staff Reporter

The county's planning department dodged a bullet last week when the council - by a 9-6 count - voted against a motion to close it down.

Anson, Hindon, Minden Reeve Bern Berry had sought to disband the department because of its "redundancy", a "lack of consensus on county-wide planning" and budget restraints.

The decision to keep the department was a surprise.

It had been rumoured that the county planning Mark Stagg would be gone after this council meeting.

"I'm pleased for the sake of the people of this county," said Stagg after the reprieve. "Oncoming provincial planning regulations would severely hamper development (in Haliburton County) if there is no official plan."

Stagg has also been working on a county waste management system which would have died along with the planning department.

After his motion was defeated Berry said the decision to keep the department would be costly to taxpayers.

"It will only reflect in higher taxes next year, we can't afford the luxury. We've been talking for five years (about an official plan). I don't think it will ever come together."

Stagg was hired in 1990 to draw up an official plan. He was to spend 60 per cent of his time on planning and 40 per cent on economic development.

But the county has made no headway on what is considered an essential prerequisite to effective economic development of the area.

The planning department became a victim of a budget crunch and the county council voted more than a year ago to postpone work on the official plan. Stagg began working closely with the Chamber of Commerce on economic development projects. Earlier this year Stagg was redirected to work on waste management as well.

This year the county has budgeted $101,600 for the department, which also got subsidies of $47,000 from the province. Waste management co-ordinator Michelle Costello and a secretary are on staff with Stagg.

The series of council decisions that limited Stagg's role in the past seemed to indicate that Berry's motion last week to get rid of the department would be greeted favourably.

The turnaround, and the comments made during the debate on the motion, are an indication of the pressure councillors are under to get something done at the county level.

"We have to provide leadership. There appears to be a lack of direction in county council," said Glamorgan Reeve Bev MacDuff, who spoke against the motion to disband the planning department.

AHM Deputy-reeve Lewis Stevens agreed, raising the question of what, in fact, the purpose of the county council was if it withdrew from planning and development.

"We're not getting involved in waste management? We're not getting involved in economic development?... It's definitely time to pull together."

But Stanhope Reeve Fred Gardner, who seconded the disbandment resolution, said too much money had already been spent and it was time to look at a different way of doing things.

"We've spent well over $500,000 in the last four years. I

Carter has power, but Haliburton doesn't when hydro goes off during Blue Jays game

by MARTHA PERKINS
Editor

What is it about Haliburton and the World Series? Are Highlands baseball fans jinxed? Is this some sort of retaliation for all the unkind words which were shouted at television screens when the Blue Jays lost game two?

Well, those might be some of the more diabolical reasons why the power went out in so many Highlands homes on Thursday night. Harking back to the last few minutes of the last game of the World Series last year, some baseball fans saw their screens fade quickly to black just as Thursday's game was getting interesting. Of course, it wasn't as heart-stopping as it was last year, when the fate of the Series was decided in those few black minutes. But it really was frustrating.

This year's culprit was not a broken ceramic insulator in a hydro transformer. Rather, in the black silence which followed Thursday's power outage, people were well aware of the reason they suddenly had no electricity - the wind.

Mother Nature was having quite a wild time all day Thursday and well into Thursday night. The wind was strong enough to buffet cars on the road and bring dozens of tree branches smashing down onto hydro lines.

"It kept us on our toes," says Everett McKnight, a line supervisor with Ontario Hydro's Minden office. "Our trouble was the wind kept going all night."

There was not one power outage, but several, all taking place at different times at different parts of the county. The first was 5:30 a.m. on Thursday and continued throughout the day and night. Crews were out at 2 a.m. Friday morning at Haliburton Lake, and on Friday evening, there were more calls coming in as cottagers arrived in the Highlands only to find they had no electricity.

Some of the communities in the black at one point or another were Haliburton Lake, Drag Lake, Highway 35 north to the Frost Centre, Koshlong Lake, Trooper Lake, Tamarack Lake, Esson Lake, Cedar Lake, Minniecock Lake, Miner's Bay, Kushog Lake...

In every case, the power outage was caused by a tree branch falling on a hydro line. Sometimes, the line was fixed, the crews left, and then another branch fell.

An election history

Our thanks to local historian Doug Hodgson for providing us with this overview of the political history of our federal riding. Mr. Hodgson is the son of the late Clayton Hodgson, who was the Progressive Conservative MP for Victoria-Haliburton and Mr. Hodgson accompanied his father on many campaigns. Needless to say, many of the conversations at the Hodgson dinner table also revolved around politics. Now Mr. Hodgson's son, Chris, is seeking the P.C. provincial nomination for the upcoming by-election.

It should be noted that when Mr. Hodgson was phoned at his Haliburton Lake home, he was able to give all of this information off the top of his head.

In 1891, Sam Hughes, who had a summer home in Eagle Lake and later went on to be the Minister of the Militia during World War I, won the Conservative nomination for North Victoria and Haliburton County. He lost the general election but the courts overturned the results, saying the opposition was guilty of "buddling." In the 1892 by-election, Hughes won.

In 1908 there was a re-distribution of the riding. South and North Victoria were joined, along with Haliburton County. Hughes won the 1911 election, the 1917 election & died in 1921.

In 1921, Progressive J.J. Thurston ran against Conservative Thomas Stinson, a Lindsay lawyer whose father had owned the grist mill in Minden. Thurston won, but didn't keep the seat for long. Stinson won in 1925, 1926 and 1930.

Just before the 1935 election, the minister of finance in Prime Minister W.B. Bennett's cabinet resigned and formed the Reconstruction Party. The local Reconstruction candidate was also a former Conservative, John R. Faulkner. Faulkner was a Gooderham merchant and got 200 votes, primarily in the Gooderham area. Stinson really needed those votes in his race against Liberal Bruce McNiven. The final vote was Stinson 8,174 and McNiven, 8,236. It could be assumed that Faulkner's votes would have otherwise gone to the Conservatives.

McNiven was the only Liberal MP this riding would have. He won the 1940 election but lost to Progressive Conservative Clayton Hodgson in 1945. (The Conservatives became the Progressive Conservatives at 1942 Conservative national convention, to reflect the party's renewed direction.)

Hodgson was re-elected, with a greater plurality each time, in 1949, 1953, 1957, 1958 and 1962. When John Diefenbaker's minority government had to call an election in 1963, an aging Hodgson decided not to run. Former Lindsay mayor Charlie Lamb became the new Progressive Conservative candidate, winning the election. Unfortunately, he died of cancer in 1965.

That's when Kinmount storekeeper Bill Scott took over. Scott, who retired only this year, won the following elections: 1965, 1968, 1972, 1974, 1979, 1980, 1984 and 1988.

Conservatives and Reform split vote, opening door for a Liberal victory

Devolin was seen as one of the bright lights among Reform Party Leader Preston Manning's candidates.

His advertising campaign manager, Bob Stinson, also of Haliburton, was with Devolin at the Liberal headquarters. He felt "terrible" because he felt strongly not only about the Reform Party but also about Devolin personally.

Of course, the defeat was also quite a blow to Chester, who had to settle for third place in a riding that has traditionally guaranteed a success for whoever carried the Conservative banner. "When you're caught up in a juggernaut, there's not much you can do," he told the Echo. At that time, the Conservatives had won only two seats in the country and were shut out in Ontario.

Chester said he was worried about the strong showing of the Bloc Quebecois. "I really love Canada and I'm concerned about the impact (of the Bloc.) I think (Bloc Leader Lucien Bouchard) is going to destroy this country."

When Chester visited O'Reilly's campaign office for the handshake of defeat, the winning candidate said "It takes as much to lose as it does to win. There were some pretty class acts on the campaign trail, and one of the best was Lorne Chester. Coming in a distant fourth was independent candidate, and former MPP, Dennis Drainville. There was a small, somewhat subdued gathering at his campaign office in Lindsay. At 10 o'clock last night, he told the Echo that people were concerned about the future and wanted stability. The Liberals' success was a significant trend across the country "and it's obvious the riding has fall in with that trend."

He too is not sure of what his future will hold, although he did say he has "no intention of running provincially."

All in all, the results in Haliburton County closely mirrored those in the rest of the riding. There were two exceptions. In the riding, the National Party's Martin Doyle came in sixth, with Don Waterhouse of Christian Heritage in eighth place. Locally, Waterhouse was sixth. As well, Charles Olito of the Canada Party did much better in the riding, coming in seventh, while locally he was second last.

With 83 percent of the polls counted by the time the Echo had to go to press, 61 percent of potential voters had gone to the polls, or 46,361 votes out of a possible 76,316 voters. The riding results were as follows:

Liberal John O'Reilly, 16,486; Reformer Barry Devolin, 13,144; Conservative Lorne Chester, 10,281; independent Dennis

How we covered the election

When the Echo realized that the federal election fell on a Monday, we knew we'd have to come up with a way to provide election coverage the next day, not the next week.

So yesterday (Monday), we lay out the newspaper as usual. But when we phoned our driver, Larry Donaldson, to say that we were ready to have him drive the page flats to the printing plant in Bracebridge, we kept the first three pages. On these pages we had left big empty spaces for the election coverage. As well, we had a chart pasted up for the poll-by-poll results, but there weren't any numbers slotted into the proper spaces.

Then, Echo publisher Len Pizzezy and Staff Reporter Linda Shutt drove down to Lindsay. Len went to most of the campaign offices to take pictures of the candidates waiting in anticipation for the results. When the results came in, Linda interviewed the candidates and campaign workers.

Meanwhile, Echo Editor Martha Perkins was back at the Echo office in Haliburton. Every so often, Linda would phone her with quotes and the poll results. When it finally became clear who was the winner, Martha wrote the story, using the quotes Linda had read to her over the phone. Martha then put the poll numbers into the chart, laid out the stories, wrote the headlines and Martha phoned Larry, telling him he could once again make the trip to Bracebridge. (We weren't sure who would win so we had at the ready pictures of three of the candidates - but we won't tell you which three.)

Because it was so late, instead of coming back to Haliburton, Larry stayed in Bracebridge until the paper was completed, and drove the 5,000 copies of the Echo back to Haliburton on Tuesday morning.

And now it's your job to draw your own conclusions from the results, brought to you by a real team effort.

Here, There ... and Everywhere

There was celebrating in the streets when the Toronto Blue Jays clinched their second World Series title on Saturday night. Although the outpouring of public jubilation wasn't as intense as it was in Toronto after the exciting sixth game against Philadelphia, there were more than a few horns honking in the streets of Haliburton and Minden. Then again, maybe people were simply ecstatic that they were able to watch the entire game on television. It was a year ago that the power in most of the county went out during the final minutes of the deciding game. (One acoustic witness to this year's revelry says there weren't as many people honking their car horns; last year, many people had to race out to their car to listen to radio reports of the game and the horn honking was a natural reaction.) The Minden OPP says there were no serious disturbances resulting from the celebrations.

They're off and walking at the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School. The Heart and Stroke Foundation is once again sponsoring the week-day walking program from 7:15 a.m. to 8:15 a.m.. With no shopping malls in the county, many seniors are without a walking place in the winter. The high school halls are a welcome alternative. It's a very fun, social time and people can set their own pace and walk for as long as they like. Participants are asked to wear an association pin, which are available mornings at the high school.

The Dysart fire department is holding its annual Big Buck draw. By purchasing a $3 ticket you have two ways to win. First there is the regular draw; the first prize is a .44 Magnum Winchester, and the second prize is having your deer cut and wrapped at the Butcher Block in Haliburton. But then, your ticket also enables you to enter the 50/50 draw for the biggest buck. However, to qualify for the 50/50 draw, you must purchase your ticket before November 1. Tickets are available from any fireman and their place of business.

In last week's Pic of the Past, we incorrectly spelled the name of the family who lived in the white house in the background. The Stotharts were an original pioneer family, but unfortunately, most of them left the area as the Depression wore on. Marie and Leda Roberts of Haliburton are granddaughters of the Old Buckhorn Road family.

The man getting out of the taxi was a familiar figure. However, this time, Erick Wytsky was a passenger, not the driver. The long-time owner of Erick's Taxi was back in Haliburton for a visit, and of course he used a taxi to get around town. He now lives happily with his daughter in Woodstock, so he doesn't make it up this way very often.

Have you ever had any difficulties breathing? The Victoria-Haliburton Lung Association is here to help. It is hosting a short "Breath Easy" seminar on November 9, in co-operation with Haliburton County Home Support Services. The program is for persons with lung disease, such as emphysema, chronic bronchitis or asthma, as well as persons who suffer from shortness of breath. Please see the classified in this week's Echo for details.

In the Haliburton County Community Service Headlines, a newsletter which outlines many of the items discussed at Interagency Luncheons, the following people are welcomed to the community and/or their new roles: Sandra McIlvride, the new intake worker at Children's Aid Society; Sharon Lynch, a residential counsellor at the Association for Community Living; Mike Vandenbroek, a new therapist at the Haliburton County Counselling Centre, replacing Michael James; Mike Landry, the Minden OPP's new community services officer, replacing Mike Maybee; and Terry Goodwin, a probation officer based in Minden. The next Interagency Luncheon is Wednesday, Dec. 15 at noon at the Haliburton United Church.

Irate residents want debate

by LINDA SHUTT
Staff Reporter

Municipal Reeves were sharply rebuked at last week's county council meeting in letters from constituents who expressed concern over what one writer called "parochial bickering".

The writers questioned the council's lack of response to the $40,000 Wace Report, the review of county operations that, among other things, recommended a move to one-tier government for a potential saving of $1.50 million.

"When you refuse to implement a report that would improve services and save $1.5-million each year, you are acting irresponsibly," wrote Dorothy and Leslie H. Adams of Newmarket. They said they have been summer residents of Haliburton County and taxpayers for more than 40 years.

Referring to published remarks by Lutterworth Reeve Cam Ecclestone, the Adams' said they supported an open discussion of the report and demanded it be made available to the public.

"We object to a few residents behind closed doors making decisions on such an important matter and then trying to hide the report and the discussions leading up to your decisions. After all the taxpayers paid $40,000 for the report and are paying your salaries...There must be duplication of services that could or should come under the county jurisdiction only, because of the small population living in the county permanently and high taxes."

The issue of one-tier has never been formally debated in a county council meeting but some municipalities have already voted against it at their own council meetings. On September 4 Warden Chris Hodgson called one-tier "a dead issue" because the municipalities were unable to agree on change.

A second writer, who addressed her letter to Glamorgan Reeve Bev MacDuff, supported amalgamation of services, either by combining some of the 10 municipalities or through one-tier government.

"We can no longer afford the luxury of parochial bickering," wrote Jean Clarke of Stormy Lake. "A move like this (to one-tier), with a ward system, might get us working together as well as saving money."

After the letters were read at last Wednesday's council meetings several Reeves defended their actions.

Stanhope Reeve Fred Gardner waved a hand at the empty seats in the meeting room and pointed out that council meetings are open to the public.

Monmouth Reeve Keith Tallman said the information requested by the Adams (together with a copy of the Wace Report they asked for statistics on summer and permanent residents, a list of services and the number of eligible voters) was public information available at municipal offices. The Wace Report is also available at the municipalities.

Although the Wace Report hasn't been formally debated, Warden Chris Hodgson said it hasn't been ignored.

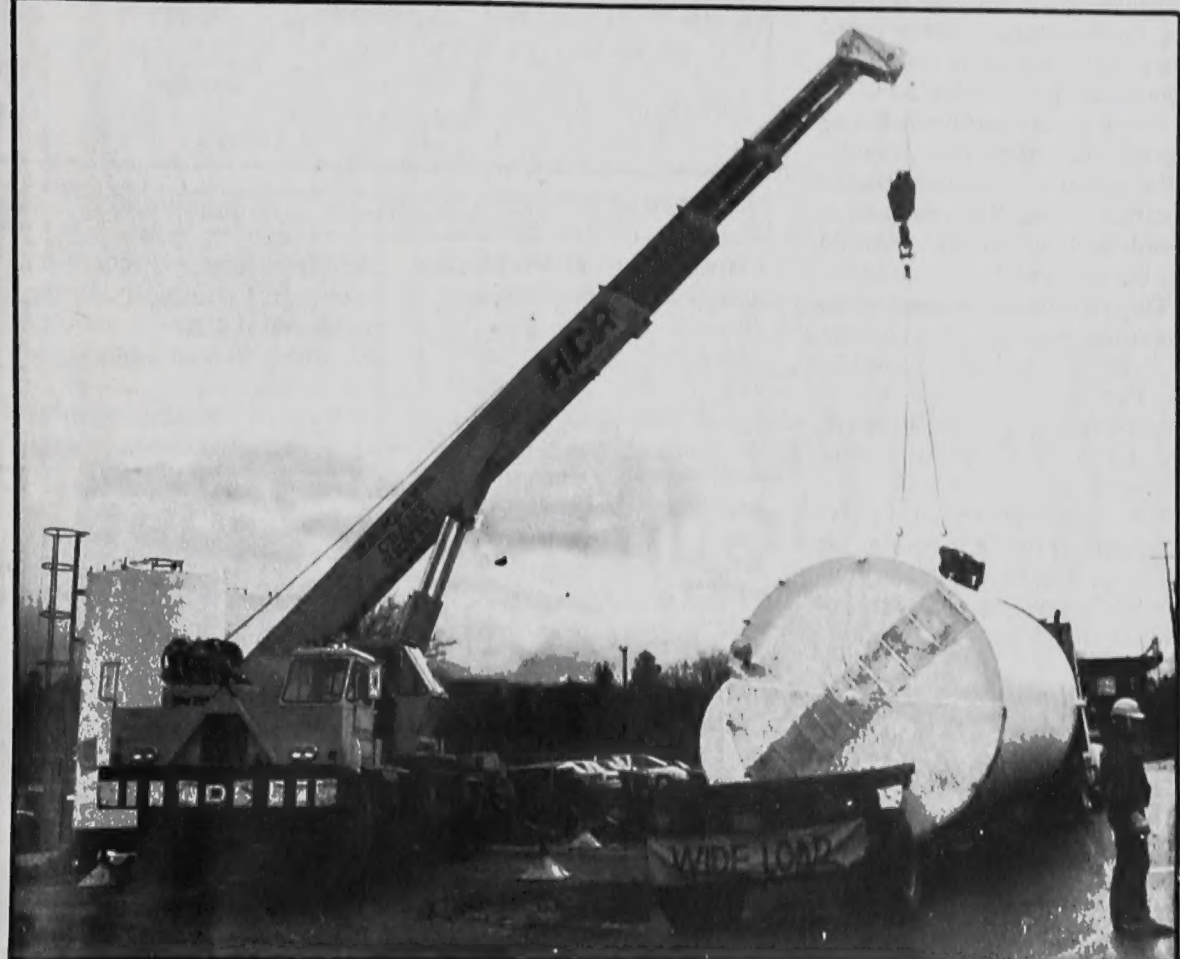

"The Wace Report has been discussed publicly," said Hodgson. He referred to the numerous articles in the local newspapers outlining the reports contents.

Later in the meeting, in his closing remarks, Hodgson said "In the last year there has been more open discussion and more discussion in the papers. We have let people know there are problems."

He said many of the recommendations in the Wace Report, which also focused on the need for computer updating and staff training, were on hold because of lack of money.

Chainsaws are stolen

Three attempted break ins in Minden early yesterday morning finally resulted in a good haul for the thieves. OPP Minden received calls of activated alarms at the Esso station and from Guardian Drugs just after 5 a.m.. The would-be robbers left both buildings when the alarms went off without taking anything. But they were able to deactivate the alarm at Northshore Lawn and Garden and stole 25 chainsaws and a large amount of snowmobile clothing and helmets. The value of the stolen goods isn't yet known. Police have no suspects.

GOING, GOING, GONE: Imperial Oil is removing the oil tanks which have stood beside Youngdale Fuels on York Street for many years. Youngdale's, which recently became an independent fuel supplier, now fills its trucks in Minden and has no need for the tanks, which have long been considered a downtown eyesore. Youngdale's is still very much in business, but it too has plans to move to a new location in Haliburton Village. Imperial Oil is now doing tests on the soil to ensure there's been no leakage, and Dysart may turn the area into a new parking lot.

alert would ensure all the local merchants were warned of the problem.

The police also want to get to know their communities and feel the public can benefit from knowing their police officers. In areas like Stanhope, with no central urban area, police rely on patrol cars to do their job and that, can make it difficult to develop a good relationship with the public.

An association can change that. "We're not just a car driving by, people get to know us by name," said Landry. "Associations all work differently, you can organize in whatever way you see fit. We have a lot to offer, whatever you come up with."

Lynda Burley, a resident of Stanhope for 25 years, organized the meeting because she believes the public needs to get to know its police officers as something more than "boys in blue".

"I could see so much being done," she said after the meeting. "I'm looking to business people for their ideas. They may have problems they haven't even told the police about."

The Haliburton program was discussed as a model for an association. It has twice monthly meetings and members have been trained in safety programs such as CPR and hypothermia response.

The association operates independently of the OPP, inviting an officer to a meeting for advice or information but basically running its own program.

Members of an association can also get a better understanding of how and why the police do their job.

Bernardi had the crowd laughing with tales of public frustration with a police system they don't understand.

A new OPP program will enable the public to tour the detachment offices and explain why, when you call to report a theft the first thing you are asked is your date of birth.

OPP Sgt. Doug Bernardi explains community policing benefits to Stanhope residents

It's an easy identification, and one of the ways the OPP records information in its increasingly sophisticated computer systems.

The OPP has its communications centre in Peterborough, explaining why surprised Haliburton County residents telephoning for an officer are sometimes told the person answering the phone doesn't know their road or lake.

"A lot of people don't realize there's a central dispatch, that the officer they are calling isn't in Minden."

There was sufficient interest in an association to organize another meeting, tomorrow (Wednesday Oct. 27) at the Stanhope firehall at 2 p.m..

Gun fired in hunting dispute

A dispute over hunting territory ended with shots being fired in Snowdon last week. OPP Minden reported that Stephen Griffin, 34, of Smith Township was hunting on crown land when another hunter approached him and demanded that he leave the area. He refused and a weapon was then pointed at him. The gun was then aimed away from him and a shot was fired. Griffin was not injured.

Gordon Graham, 44, of Snowdon was arrested and charged with a weapons offense. He was released and is scheduled to appear in Minden court on November 17.

Charles and Eileen Heard of Eagle Lake appeared in a Lindsay court on Oct. 20 and their case was adjourned to Nov. 8.

The Heards were arrested and charged on Oct. 5 with extortion and threats of death. Mr. Heard is also charged with assault.

They are free on bail of $25,000 each. The bail conditions also required them to surrender their passports and firearms.

The charges were laid following a dispute with an employee of the Heards.

WHAT'S NEW IN BUSINESS

The first "business to business" get-together sponsored by the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce was an outstanding success. On Tuesday night, about 70 business owners from across the county gathered at Hart Lodge to meet each other and informally discuss some of the issues facing the Highlands. The gathering was supposed to end at 7 p.m., but the atmosphere was so positive and constructive that many people did not leave until 10 p.m. Another good sign was that there was a good mix between business and resort owners. The next business-to-business get-together is planned for February 15 at Wig-a-Mog Inn. Meanwhile, in other Chamber news, Brian Dean is the new Chamber president, replacing Rhonda Elstone who admirably held this time-consuming position for two years. For more information on Chamber events, please call the office at 286-1760.

Stephen and Stephani Hartwick, owners of Bwana John's in Haliburton, have recently visited Chiang Mai and Bangkok in Thailand, Kathmandu in Nepal, and Jaipur and New Delhi in India on the first leg of their 1993-94 buying contest.

The Toronto Dominion Bank in Minden is offering attractive loans to people who want to buy a new snowmobile in the Highlands. Loans are available at the prime rate (last week it was 5 3/4 percent) or slightly higher, depending on the package you choose. However, loan applications are only available at local snowmobile dealers, who will do all the paperwork for you. There is also a package available for the purchase of used snowmobiles. Please see your local dealer for details.

Paulette Blake is once again part of the Haliburton business scene. Only this time she's selling cars, not gifts. The former owner of Paulette's Gift Store has now joined the sales staff at Elstone Motors on Hwy. 118. She is also still involved with her own consulting business.

Small Business Week, October 24 to 30, highlights the contributions that entrepreneurs make to the economy. This year's theme is Challenge and Change - Staying on Top. Locally, the Federal Business Development Bank is offering a one-day seminar today (Tuesday) in Peterborough. Topics include operation of a home-based business, exporting and succession planning. For more information about the FBDB's services, please call 1-748-3241 or the Haliburton County Development Corporation, 457-3555.

Local businesses are invited to take part in Explore Ontario, a new show and sale that promotes everything this province has to offer. The consumer show will encourage people of all ages to spend their vacation and leisure time in the province. "Whether it's a two-week vacation, a weekend get-away, a day trip or a shopping excursion, Explore Ontario will present and promote it all." For more information about the event, which takes place March 25 to 27 at the Automotive Building, Exhibition Place, Toronto, please contact Michael Vitale at (416) 203-3212 or fax (416) 203-2510.

Septic rules limit development

by MARTHA PERKINS
Editor

The following are brief reports of items discussed at Tuesday night's meeting of Glamorgan council, with all members present. The meeting dealt primarily with planning issues. Chief Building Official Danny Sayers and planning consultant Al McNair of McNair and Marshall were also present.

Eat or sleep?

The local developers of the Mountainview property could build a 48-seat restaurant or a motel, but they can't do both. Although the site is 12 acres, the topography makes sewage disposal a bit difficult. The health unit says that there can be a maximum sewage outflow of 4,500 litres a day, and when you crunch the numbers, that works out to a 48-seat restaurant. The developers could spend $20,000 on a hydrogeological study about the impact of a larger development, but there are no guarantees the results would be favourable, or justify the cost of the study.

At first, the Glamorgan Investment Group wanted to build a 100-seat roadhouse with six accommodations. Owners have suggested other uses, such as a take-out restaurant and propane outlet.

Council has yet to receive a formal application, but will make sure that the developers are aware of the restrictions. Deputy-reeve Glen Madill says the developers should be the ones to choose between the restaurant and motel, but stresses that whatever decision is made, it must conform to the health unit's restrictions.

Septic concerns

Reeve Bev MacDuff is worried about the environmental impact when a cottage is turned into a year-round home. Quite often, the old septic system is not designed to handle the increased usage, or might simply be worn out. However, it's difficult for council to ensure that the septic system is upgraded when the use of the building increases.

McNair said that Simcoe County has resolved this by not differentiating between seasonal and year-round use. The system must be suitable for the size of the building, based on full-time use.

As well, council can exercise control through building by-laws. If someone comes in and asks for a permit to add on an extra bedroom, council can demand health unit approval for the septic system. However, this "insurance" falls flat if the people do not make any changes to the cottage.

Councillor Lorrie Saville said that when she and her husband converted their cottage into a home, they automatically put in a new system. When the old one was taken out, they found it was full of holes.

The Ontario government might come up with a few ideas of its own when it implements the Sewell commission on planning and development.

Honesty is the best policy

McNair gave some friendly advice to council: when someone is making a proposal, tell them about all the rules and regulations right from the start. "If there are requirements, the earlier in the process people find out about them, the sooner they know if their proposal is viable..."

"(As a result) the development you get will be better developed, it will be more thought out."

But honesty is a two-way street, said Sayers. Some people are not exactly forthright when discussing their plans for the property. It would help him if they would tell him all of their plans at the beginning.

Clerk-treasurer Elva Bates said that many people have no experience in dealing with municipal regulations, and simply aren't aware that there are many things for which they must get approval.

Fee increases

Council will mull over Sayers' suggestion to increase building fees, which are quite low compared to other municipalities in the county. For instance, Glamorgan charges $15 for an inspection when someone applies to build a deck. "With the time and distance involved, taxpayers are subsidizing building permit fees," Sayers says. Here are his recommendations: minimum fee, $45; seasonal and permanent dwellings, $40 flat fee plus 12¢ a square foot; accessory buildings, $40 plus 10¢ a square foot; commercial and industrial buildings, which are usually larger, $40 plus 8¢ a square foot.

County changes direction

think there are better ways of getting there."

An undercurrent of the debate and vote was the municipal versus county interest.

Minden already has its own plan and Berry criticized municipalities who, he said, had sat back and waited for the county to do the work.

But the other reeves rejected the criticism.

"Bern Berry referred to the four or five years we have been waiting for an official plan," said Monmouth Reeve Keith Tallman. "Why didn't we get off our ass? Because we would have wasted a lot of township money" if a municipal plan had been drawn up that contradicted the proposed county plan.

Speaking before the vote Snowdon Reeve George Simmons said the decision on the resolution was an important one for the county.

"To me, planning is one of the major needs for the county. Dysart has a plan. Surely the county can develop one."

Sherborne et al Reeve Ross Rabjohn said his municipality's dealings with the Ontario Municipal Board, which conducts hearings on planning and development disputes, proved to him the importance of an official plan.

After the resolution was defeated Stagg sought and received the agreement of council to proceed with strategic planning. He will now approach the province to find out what funding is available and start budgeting for the planning process.

For (the motion to disband): Bern Berry (weighted 2 votes), Cardiff Reeve Tom Elliott, Cardiff Deputy-reeve Mac Peters, Lutterworth Reeve Cam Ecclestone, Fred Gardner.

Warden Chris Hodgson would only be required to vote to break a tie.

Deputy reeve's Curry Bishop (Dysart) and Eleanor Harrison (Stanhope) were absent.

Watch out for our little goblins this weekend...
please drive with care!

It's election time – again

This may sound cruel, given what we've been going through for the past two months, but it's time to start thinking about next year's municipal elections. We are approaching the final year of the present councils' three-year term, and province-wide municipal elections will be held in November of 1994.

More than ever, these local elections will be very important for the county's future. Running a municipality today is a complex task. The mother figure, the province, has been clicking her tongue a lot lately, telling the children what they can or can't do in no uncertain terms. The father figure, the federal government, is getting far more strict and stingy when it comes to doling out the children's allowance – a case of do as I say, don't do as I do. The result is a myriad of rules and regulations, and no money with which to implement them.

As well, this recession has been cruel to the Highlands. The county's welfare costs are extraordinarily high, and taxpayers are extraordinarily sensitive to any increases in taxation. If we have learned one lesson from this, it's that it is time to work together. Whether you're from Snowdon or Sherborne, Monmouth or Minden, municipal boundaries must be forgotten as we strive towards the common good. Most residents have already reached this conclusion; it's only the politicians who seem to be holding on to the old way of doing things. They're the ones with the most to lose.

In the past months, county councillors seem unable to make the simplest decisions, worried as they are about what's in it for the other municipalities. Everyone seems to suspect the others' motives. They say black just because someone else has said white. The debate over one-tier government is a case in point. There was no debate. A few municipal councils, without waiting to find out exactly what was being proposed, voted against a stronger county government. Haliburton County could have come up with a unique plan that would have suited its personality, but no proposal was ever allowed to get off the ground. Suddenly, one-tier government was dead and there wasn't even a smoking gun.

Then there is the ongoing saga of the official plan. A few years ago, when Mark Stagg was hired to draft the plan, municipalities rightfully got worried that some of his ideas infringed on municipal jurisdiction. His plan was also much more complicated than we could ever afford. But instead of setting him on the right path, county council left him blowing in the wind, not providing him with any clear direction or guidance. Last Wednesday they voted to keep him on, but relegated him to a kind of no-man's land within the county's bureaucracy. Is it little wonder that county council is having difficulties hiring a chief administrative officer, the person upon whom they'd like to unload many of their responsibilities?

Things must get better, because they can't get much worse. So as you think about next year's municipal election, start coming up with a few of the questions you'd like to ask the candidates. Here are a few suggestions: Would you be willing to put the county's interests ahead of your own municipality's? Would you be willing to give up some of your power base if it meant a leaner, more efficient county system? Would you be willing to work co-operatively with other municipalities, knowing you might not benefit directly but your turn may be next? Above all, do you have a clear idea of where this county should be in five years, and do you know how we might begin to get there?

Oh, and by the way... Since we're talking about elections, don't forget that we'll be having a provincial by-election in the next few months. Enjoy.
M.P.

Readers "fortunate" to have Echo coverage

To the Editor from our Readers

To the Editor:

Your co-workers must be very proud to work with someone who stands solidly behind them in a controversy created by the article on the Reform Party i.e. unemployment, insurance benefits. Your editorial 'War of words at election time' was an excellent explanation of how a newspaper reporter goes about doing their job. We are indeed fortunate to have such complete coverage of all that occurs in the County.

My commendation to you all.

Pat Cummings,
Haliburton.

To the Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to thank your paper for helping to make this, our sixth Studio Tour, the most successful yet. By the attendance reports, which were for the most part fairly accurate estimates, we think that over 2500 people participated in our event this year. Although the weather did not co-operate this year, spirits were high and the colours certainly were beautiful.

I would also like to publicly thank all of the local business people and information centres who supported us by putting up our posters, distributing our brochures, and putting in a good word for us. Thank you all!

We very much appreciate the local support we have been getting the past few years. The Studio Tour is becoming a bit of a cultural event and your readers may be interested to know that the Tour is organised, and entirely funded by, the participating artists and craftspeople. Thanks again, every body.

Michael Butz,
Haliburton.

Thanks to locals

To the Editor:

I would once again like to extend my appreciation to the merchants and other services who have made my annual summer time at my home on Drag Lake so pleasant, and a special thanks to the Echo staff who provide me with "the what's happening" in our town.

Echo manager balances work and home life

by MARTHA PERKINS
Editor

General Manager Sandra Bishop

WHENEVER SCHOOL CHILDREN tour the Echo office, I usually introduce Sandra Bishop as one of the most important people at the newspaper. She's the one who makes sure we get our paycheques, I say with a smile. They quickly understand how special her job is. And when they find out that she is Christopher and Mallory's mother, she rises even higher in their estimation.

The two roles are very important. Sandra has worked at the Echo for 12 years, and knows every part of our accounting department inside out. She is also a devoted mother, placing her family at the top of her priorities. Fortunately, she has been able to find a way to balance both work and home, to the benefit of both. As you look at her career at the Echo, you realize the two often go hand in hand.

In September, Sandra became the Echo's first general manager. This is partly because her many years of experience at the Echo have given her an understanding of how the paper works, and also because Mallory is now in Grade 1. For the first time since Christopher was born nine years ago, Sandra can work full time at the Echo, thus enabling her to take on more responsibilities.

"I knew when Creighton (Feir, the Echo's advertising manager) died that there would be aspects of the business that wouldn't be looked after," she says of why she welcomed the promotion. "And my children were both at school full time so I knew I had five days a week I could spend at work."

We all relied on Creighton for many things. He had been with the newspaper for most of his life, owning it twice – once with his father and once with a group of local businessmen. He knew every aspect of the newspaper. He knew what had to be done and when, and he was often the person who did it. When he died in May, he left a very big hole in the Echo.

Sandra knew the important role that Creighton played at work. In 1981, she heard there was a job opening and she came to the office to apply. Creighton interviewed her and hired her on the spot. From that day on, he was like an uncle and mentor to her.

"You talked to Creighton every day. You relied on him and he relied on you," she says. "Whenever anything would happen, Creighton would come and talk to me and I learned a lot that way."

One of the main things she learned was to be fair with people. "You should always try to think of their side, but be loyal to the newspaper too. Creighton knew people so well and with him, you always knew where you stood."

Sandra hopes people will talk to her the way they did with Creighton. She's the supervisor of the inner workings of the business, working alongside Publisher Len Pizzey on the many business decisions that have to be made each day. Although not directly involved with each department, she knows how all the different parts of the paper work. If your question is not

Going back to Bala

CITY SLICKER
DAVID CARROLL

PINE POINT, KENNISIS LAKE: It's windy today, and marvellously warm. Rosie the cat is sitting on the windowsill, clawing at the wind she can feel but not see. Sussy laughs. I write a bad haiku:

Kitten in the window
October wind
Whoosh!

It's not very often that I write haikus, but October is an unusual month. It never fails to shake me up, with its botanical deaths, and startling yellow school buses. October is school, and death, and pain. Case in point. The other day I passed a local high school. Football practise was going on, so I parked the car and watched the boys in the field. I saw the hurt in their eyes, and the focused resolve. What character-building, I thought, and felt awed. The mud and the fear that these boys were facing! Why, one could pass by in a car and not even notice. This got me thinking about my own coming of age, which in turn reminded me of Bala.

I should explain. My family used to rent a cottage near Bala, on the southwestern shore of Lake Muskoka. This is going way back, you understand; long before I started buying Bee Gees albums. The cottage was situated across the bay from the transcontinental tracks, and every day, twice a day, the Canadian roared across Bala Park Island. Andy and I lived for that train. The instant we heard its lonely cry we'd rush to the dock and wave our shirts above our heads. Sometimes we fancied we saw the passengers wave back. Mike was just a toddler then; he didn't know how to say "caboose." "Where's a beep-boose?" he'd say. "Where's a beep-boose?" Mike hated the Canadian because it lacked a caboose.

The cottage boasted a thousand feet of shoreline, and Andy and I knew every inch by heart.

We built a killer fort on the northernmost point; it had natural pool and a beach for a boat. Mike often tried to follow us, but we scared him away. "There's bears in these woods," we said, and he believed.

One year we met a boy who lived in Bala year-round. His name was Tim and he was infinitely more exotic: he swore and spat, and said he'd kissed a girl. His Father owned a fine Peterborough boat, with a twenty horsepower Viking, very fast we thought. Saturday evenings Tim would chauffeur my family to Bala, to see the Big Band Concerts and the waterskiing shows. We kids would climb down the precambrian rocks below the dam. Barefoot men and women would ski barefoot up and down the Moon river.

One night Tim slept over. We stayed up late playing "Steeplechase" and "Sorry." At 11 p.m. the phone rang: long-long. Dad said hello, and then nothing more.

And that is what I remember most about Bala. The telephone ringing and knowing Gran was gone. In a flash we were dropping Tim off at his house, and then we were driving, toward a funeral and home.

The following year Dad bought our place on Kennisis. It had less frontage, and was decidedly lacking in trains, but it belonged to us, which meant we could spill on the rug. We settled in quickly, and happily too. Andy built a new fort while I searched for mica. Dad said he was sorry that Gran couldn't see it, but the Octobers flew by, and memories of Bala grew dim.

You know how this ends — I returned to Bala last week. The place looked the same, just smaller. The cottage looked edible in a fresh coat of paint: terra cotta pink, like a coral reef. I peeked through a window and saw a cordless phone. I thought I smelled Espresso but I couldn't be sure.

I'd been wandering around for twenty minutes when I heard a sad and familiar sound. I rushed down to the dock and saw a haggard freight: fifty-five cars long, with a yellow beep-boose. It lumbered slowly across Bala Park Island, bleating its horn like the song of the dead. I glanced up the shoreline and noticed a birch: the one Gran used to sit beneath in the late afternoon. In a cotton print dress. Reading Dorothy L. Sayers. Across the lake, the train blinked out of sight. The October wind blew. I didn't bother to wave.

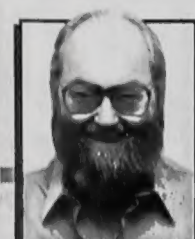

Pic of the Past

When we were looking through our files for this week's Pic of the Past, we couldn't resist using this picture of three women hunters and their catch. Obviously they were very good at feeding their families. Unfortunately, we don't know their names.

Pigs, tires and transports

SOME ITEMS discussed in past weeks, months, and even years have popped up in various forms, and at least a couple of them bear some proper updating...

It is some time since we have discussed the problems of trespassing during hunting season, and Ontario's recent act that protects property owners if they "sign" their place properly.

The state of Maine has a twist, however, that makes a lot of sense to me. Instead of every landowner who wants to protect his property having to put signs all around it — they have switched the responsibility about: people who DO allow hunting put up signs saying so — and hunters are fined if found anywhere else...

Meanwhile, those Vietnamese pot-bellied pigs that have turned up in so many stories are back one more time — only they won this one! Hamilton, Ontario, can expect world-wide publicity from those who find these critters cuddly and cute.

They'll be holding Hamilton up as an example in every jurisdiction (like Toronto and Whitby) that has by-laws declaring them pigs instead of pets. Because, at their last meeting in September, Hamilton city council reclassified them from banned "exotic animals" to legal "swine."

On a more serious note, we have followed the saga of the tire tax which the current NDP government inherited from the previous Liberal administration. Like many others, we were trying to find out where all the money went.

It was supposed to be going into solving the old tire problem, but it seemed to keep slipping into the "general revenue" pot, and there was no sign of anything happening to solve the tire problem. Then, in his last budget, the Treasurer cancelled the tire tax...

It would seem that, directly or indirectly, some of the money at least has found its way to the cause! Toronto's National Rubber Company, which apparently has solved the mystery of shredding and separating the rubber, steel and fibre in today's tires, will be opening a $6.3 million plant this fall to process about 3 million tires a year.

A development wing of the City of Toronto is building a recycling facility, which they will lease to the private company.

And the Ontario government has kicked in $3.5 million in capital grants and $4.4 million in additional grants for research and development.

It's the scrap rubber that can be traced to new uses, with the steel just getting melted down. The rubber will make mats for children's playgrounds in addition to the company's regular line of auto parts and floor mats for the trunks and passenger compartments of passenger cars...

And some will recall a column in July where I reported that the Ontario Minister of Transport had announced that they plan to bump up the allowable length of a transport trailer to 53 feet in a bill to go before the Legislature this fall. (I tried to confirm when this will come up, but without a local member, it was a little tough.)

More seriously, we can expect to see double-length units running up to 82 feet — and can't you just see these monsters taking out the stoplights in Haliburton on a regular basis...

Mary Stephens of London, Ontario, who has kept us up-to-date on the long truck problem over the years, sends some information from the aptly-named American group fighting this problem — CRASH — Citizens for Reliable and Safe Highways.

Alberta, which already allows "turnpike doubles" of 115 feet overall length, is part of a group of six U.S. states working with Mexico on the CANAMEX Longer Combination Vehicle Agreement that would turn U.S. Interstate 15 into a monster truck route.

Trucks up to 120 feet in length, involving double or even triple trailers, could travel from Mexico, where 170,000 pound units are legal, and front brakes are not required! Many other safety requirements are lower down there, including axle weight limits, driver's hours and training.

How long before we see Bob Rae inviting them into Ontario?

More political omission

NORTHERN LIGHTS
VIRGINIA MUENZEL

THE ELECTION WILL be old and tired news when this paper comes out. Indeed, it's been tired news throughout most of the campaign. Nobody believes anything any of the politicians say, and who can blame them? According to the polls, Chretien is now Prime Minister, and either Le Bloc or the Reform Party will be the opposition. None of them will make anything any better, in any case.

It's incredible! There they were. Two perfectly competent, intelligent women with a golden opportunity to take up the banner of women's issues, how the deficit, unemployment, discrimination, violence, and all the other elements of the status quo affects 52% of the voting public, and they virtually ignored us. Instead, they stuck to the same old tired party lines, which everyone knows were a crock of bull (if you'll pardon the expression.)

Why was that? It really seemed as though they were not allowed to discuss these issues. In fact, it seemed as if Kim Campbell, as interim Prime Minister, was carrying her Tory party around like an albatross. She seemed bound and gagged by it, and all the bad advice she received. It's too bad really.

And poor Audrey McLaughlin. As soon as the polls put her down amongst the fringe parties, the media wrote her off. Frankly, when she finally did get heard, she was the only one who made any sense at all. But it was too late. Her albatross came from Queen's Park.

My personal opinion is that campaign managers and party lines ought to be disallowed. They latch onto what they decide are the issues of the day and carefully manipulate us into discussing nothing else. Politicians should not be allowed to dodge the public's questions. They should have to answer them truthfully (no double-talk) even if their honest answer is, "I don't know."

Of course, the other important issue they all avoided was aboriginal rights. How frustrated the First Nations must have been, after all the hard work they've done in the last few years, to find themselves effectively shut out of this campaign.

This particular campaign, more than most that we've endured, seems to have been managed by a conglomeration of single-minded individuals who openly insulated the intelligence of every voter in the country with their promises of deficit defeating heroics, while deftly detouring around questions of any substance using replies of run-on sentences containing no meaning at all.

Frankly, I think it would have to be the neatest thing if the rain had caused the World Series to run over into election night, and the CTV network was forced by an enthusiastic public to choose the blue Jays over the Liberals.

something she can answer, she can direct you to the department that can.

"It's important that people know there are 10 people working here. We all work together for the end product but we all have different jobs."

Sandra's main responsibility will continue to be accounting, a job she enjoys for its exactness. The Echo produces about 300 accounts a month, and whether the account's for a full page ad or a $6.42 classified. A few years ago, we bought our own accounting computer program, so all billing is done internally. Sandra welcomed the new challenge and enjoys the hands-on work. "It's right up my alley," she says, adding that she likes doing jobs that are structured. "Accounting makes me think and I get satisfaction out of making things balance."

Gearing up for the end of the month is quite a task, but she and Deborah Bates, who also specializes in accounting, are comfortable with the computer. "With accounting and computers, if it's difficult it doesn't scare me. I like the challenge," Sandra says. She also uses the computer to do the bi-monthly payroll, keeping up with all the latest changes introduced by the federal and provincial governments.

Sandra learns by doing. At the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School she took several business courses. After graduation, she spent a year at Sir Sandford Fleming College while she waited for her high school sweetheart, Greg Bishop, to complete his survey engineering degree at the University of New Brunswick.

In 1980, Greg and Sandra married and they set up their home in Haliburton. Christopher was born in October, 1984 and Mallory was born in March, 1987.

As a mother, Sandra is emulating her parents, Roean and Jack Barnhart of Carnarvon. They were always there for their four daughters and as a result, Sandra has always felt it is vital to be home with her children when they need her. Even though she's now working five days a week, it's on a "mother's schedule" — she leaves at 3:30 so she can be there when Mallory and Christopher get off the school bus. That's when they talk about their day and establish the friendship that will last a life time.

Sandra is very grateful that the Echo has made this possible. "Because Len and Debbie have been so good about it, that's probably why I'm still here," she says. And the Echo is glad that she's been able to balance her home life and work life. She has many years of experience which enhance the business, and help it grow towards the future.

The Hallowe'en farm

DOWN OUR ROAD

SHARON LYNCH

SEEN FROM THE ROAD, it looked like an ordinary old farm; maybe a little older than the others on that sideroad, but nothing very unusual. The property consisted of a hundred acres of fields ringed with split rail fencing. To the back a small creek ambled through a cedar bush. There was a pond that sometimes dried up in the summer and this was circled with elm trees. The trees eventually died from Dutch Elm disease. In the orchard grew snow, russet and crab apples as well as two pear trees. Over the years the fruit suffered from neglect but its taste remained tangy and fresh.

Typical of that area, the terrain was gently rolling and a person could stand on top of one of the hills and feel the wind whipping across the fields like a fugitive. There was always a wind. It moaned in the telephone wires that ran along the road and down the lane to the house.

The farmhouse was set far back from the road

Juniors' win caps best season ever

With a total of 12 victories and no defeats, Haliburton high school's Redmen football teams have won the Kawartha West football title without a playoff. The Junior and Senior squads easily outscored Lindsay Collegiate on Friday to capture the title in their final game of the regular season.

The victories set the stage for the Kawartha title games against the top teams in the Peterborough league.

Mike Bradley scored three touchdowns to pace the Junior Redmen to a 33-0 win. Rich Simmons and Darnell Gilbert also went in for six pointers. Bradley booted two converts and QB Colin Klages punted a safety touch to complete the scoring.

The offense was paced by Bradley, who rolled up 232 yards rushing, while fullback Andrew McKelvey ground out 58 yards up the middle.

Defensive standouts were Jamie Swinson, with four fumble recoveries; Jeremy Durkin with three quarterback sacks; and Jeff Rae and Quentin McCormick with over 10 tackles each.

Friday's win capped one of the best seasons ever for the Junior Redmen. In all, they scored 190 points while the defense allowed just 8 points all season.

Coaches Bruce Griffith and Trevor Powers have a week and a half of practice time before the Juniors meet the winners of the Peterborough league for the Kawartha title. They'll be scouting this Saturday's Peterborough league final game.

Haliburton will have home field advantage for the Kawartha final to be played Thursday, November 4.

Seniors win season

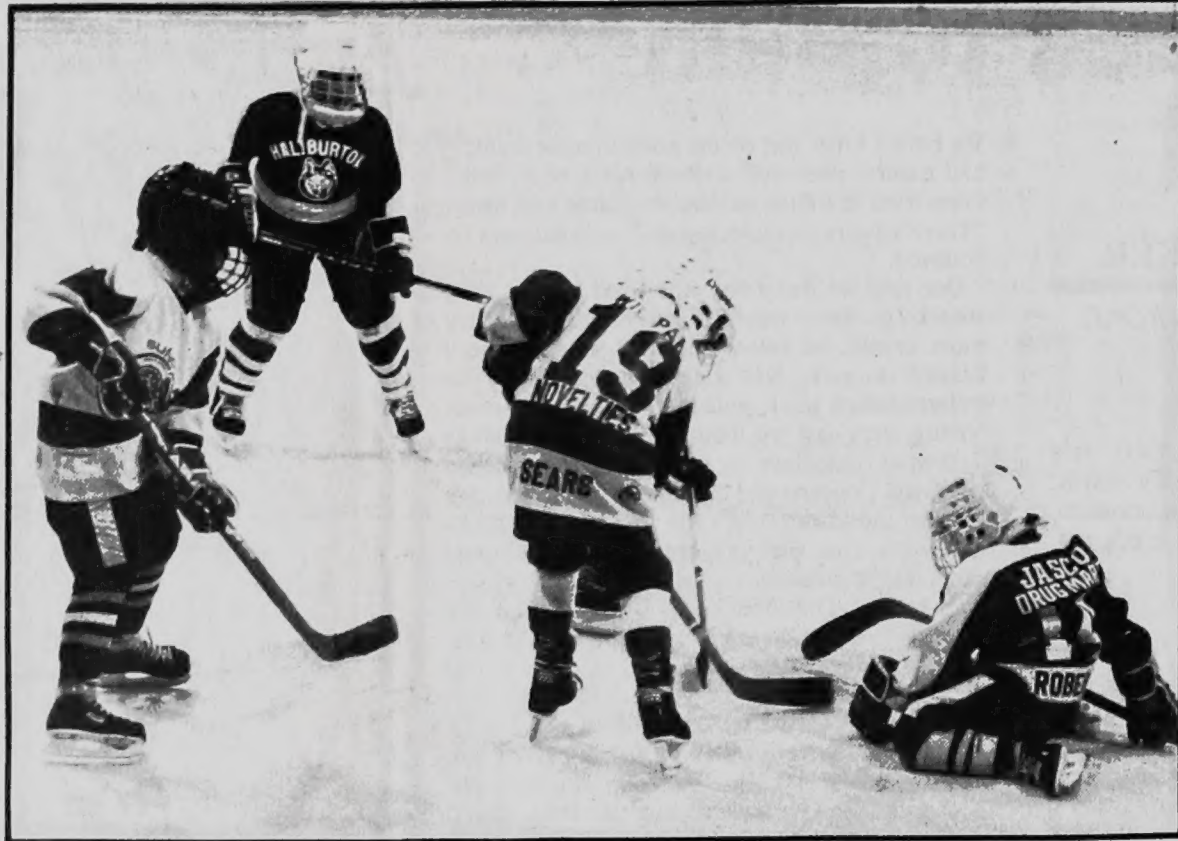

It wasn't one of the best played games of the year but in the scoring department, where it counted, the Haliburton Senior Redmen easily outpaced Lindsay Collegiate in the final season game on Friday. The Redmen's 27-1 win left them undefeated for the season and earned them the Kawartha West title.

Andy Bacon, Chris Greenfield, Peter Van Leeuwen and Kevin Morissette scored touchdowns, while Jamie Keefer booted three converts.

Peter Brohman and Erin Tomlinson played strong games on defense to frustrate LCVT's scoring hopes.

Dropped passes and ball handling problems marred both teams' play, but most of the breaks went the Redmen's way and they were never really threatened.

The Senior Redmen will travel to Peterborough on Friday, November 5 in quest of the Kawartha title.

WHAT A GAME: The Jasco Major Tykes made sure that the puck stayed in Sunderland's end during Saturday afternoon's game at the Dysart arena (photos above and below.) With a boost to their confidence the Huskies won the game 15-1. The previous day, they weren't as lucky in a match against Fenelon Falls, but they played just as well. Hockey is definitely alive and well in Haliburton.

Bantams strong in comeback

The Haliburton husky Bantams began their season this week with games against Bobcaygeon and Mariposa.

The Bobcaygeon game ended in a 5-5 tie. Curtis Reynolds scored 2 goals for the home squad with singles going to Josh Burk, Aaron Galbraith and Mark Hughes while Jon Hebert led the way with three assists. Single assists went to Mike Bradley, Josh Burk, Aaron Galbraith and Matt Galbraith.

Haliburton came from a 5-1 deficit to tie the game with three minutes to go and almost win it at the final buzzer. The comeback demonstrated the determination and positive attitude that this team has demonstrated in the

Hat tricks for Midgets

Jonathan Bishop and Colin Morrison each netted hat tricks to pace Haliburton's OMHA Midgets to a 12-1 win over Port Perry last Tuesday.

Mark Stamp and Curtis Bain had a pair of goals each, with singles netted by Curtis Reynolds and Bill Dovell, two Bantam players who came up to help out the Midget Huskies.

Netminder Blaze Foster, who has moved up to Midget despite being only first year Bantam age, did extremely well at handling the hard shot fired at him by the visitors.

Andy Billings played an outstanding game on defense to frustrate the Port Perry attack.

The Midgets are coached this year by Pat Morrison and Bill Koz, with Roger Bain handling the trainers' duties.

"Little Cat" is dogged in net for Major Tykes

On Saturday, October 23rd, the Novice "B" played host to Fenelon Falls. The team from Fenelon ruined the Huskies' home opener with a 3-1 win. The Huskies had more scoring opportunities, but couldn't make them count.

Fenelon opened the scoring early in the first period and the Huskies replied less than two minutes later, with Joel Cooper scoring the Matthew Marlin assisting. Fenelon scored twice more to round out the scoring, but it was too much for the Huskies to come back from.

Two days earlier, the Novice B's travelled to Minden and evened up their road record to 1-1, with a 11-2 win, proving that passing is a key component to any hockey game.

The Huskies displayed some awesome team passing and good hustle beating the Monarch players to the puck. At the other end of the ice, Ryan "the Little Cat" Hutson defended his territory, keeping the puck out of the net.

There were many assists not awarded on the scoring sheet, but deserved on the ice. Doing the scoring for Haliburton was: Cory Sisson with four goals; Joel Cooper with two goals and one assist; Adam Tomlinson with two goals; Jason Chambers with one goal and three assists; Matthew Marlin with one goal and three assists; Ryan Goldenberg one goal.

OMHA PeeWees thump opponents in first week

The Haliburton OMHA PeeWee Huskies burst into the 1993/94 season with two convincing wins in the first week of league play. In the home opener on Tuesday night they thumped Woodville 7 to 1 and on Sunday night in Manvers up-ended their hosts 6 to 2.

This year's PeeWee Huskies are made up of players who skated for six different teams last year. Coach Floyd Henry and assistants Paul Morissette and Gary Burch know they have a big task to bring the group together as a team but they certainly have them in good early season form.

Against Sunderland it was the veterans from last year's OMHA PeeWee squad that led the Huskies. Jason Henry scored twice and added an assist, Matt Billings scored and Matt Burk had three assists. Adding goals were smooth centre Steve St. Cyr with two and Ryan O'Neill with one. First year PeeWees on the score sheet were Greg Luck with a goal and an assist and Mike Morissette, Greg Forgrave (two) and Allan Pugh with assists.

In Manvers it was the veterans who again led the team, most noticeably Matt "crusher" Billings. As the third period wound down and Manvers realized they could not win they picked up the physical tempo of the game. The Huskies matched them check for check with Billings showing his philosophy that it is better to give then to receive. Henry is on a streak matching his opening game performance with two goals and an assist. Likewise were Burk with three more assists, St. Cyr with two goals and an assist and Luck with a goal and two assists. Darryl Sisson scored his first of the season and Mike Morissette added two assists. Goalie Greg Schell was sharp. Haliburton outplayed Manvers but Manvers mounted some serious scoring threats that Schell handled easily.

This is a squad that will be heard from in 1993/94.

Field hockey team is tough to the end

At the Kawartha Field Hockey tournament last Thursday, the Haliburton seniors placed fourth. The girls earned a berth in the six team competition as a result of their second place standing in their pool in league play with a record of five wins and one loss.

At Kawartha, the girls first played against Adam Scott, last year's COSSA winners and OFSAA representatives. The girls played a very strong defensive game which resulted in a scoreless draw. After a brief rest, Haliburton then faced Crestwood in their first game of the tournament. Haliburton mounted a strong offense but were only able to capitalize on one of their opportunities to score when Lindsay Francis netted a rebound off shot by Jenn Bradford. Jody Reid was in goal for both shutouts.

Adam Scott then had their chance at Crestwood and were able to defeat them 2-0. This dropped Haliburton into second place in their pool and thus into the bronze medal game against Lakefield.

Playing with the advantage of their home field, the Lakefield girls scored in the first half. Haliburton came back strongly in the second half and had Lakefield "on the ropes" but were unable to tie the score before the final whistle, giving Haliburton fourth place in the tournament. The first three teams advance to COSSA next week.

On Tuesday, the Junior squad made Haliburton's first appearance in the Junior Kawartha tournament. In their first game they were defeated by a very strong Adam Scott team 3-0 and then in the bronze medal game faced Crestwood. Haliburton had a much better offensive game but were unable to match Crestwood's overtime goal. Thus the Juniors finished in fourth place. Junior competition does not go beyond the Kawartha level.

Local face-off goes to Haliburton in a 5-0 shutout

A formidable foe from Fenelon lined up against the Novice C Huskies in Haliburton on Saturday. In their last meeting they battled to a three-all tie. This game would be more of the same as both teams had their chances but solid D and great goaltending kept the scoring low.

The Flyers' only goal came late in the first on a scramble in front of Huskie Netminder Alex Frybort. Midway through the second period Haliburton tied it up on a beauty wrist shot by Dustin Prindiville with Joey Sisson and Chris Jung drawing the assists.

The fans from both towns watched the third period with fingernails perched but neither team could squeak in the go ahead. Another exciting come back tie for the Haliburton Novice C's.

On Sunday Oct. 24 the Huskies hit the ice in Minden ready to Rock, and Rock they did as they rolled over Minden 5-0. The feisty Minden squad never said uncle and kept coming at the Huskies but couldn't beat Shawn MacInnes in the Haliburton cage. Huskie goals came from Alex Frybort, Dustin Prindiville, Norm Smith, Joey Sisson and André Nichol. Huskie assists came from Christ Jung, Adam Frybort, Dustin Prindiville and Kyle Boughner with two.

Next Saturday Oct. 30th the Minden Monarchs will be looking for revenge at the Dysart Arena at 12 noon. Be there or be square.

The Haliburton Novice C's congratulate the Blue Jays on their Championship victory and the Leafs on their record setting 9-0 start. Yeah Toronto! Argos? Maybe next year.

PRIMARY RACE WINNERS: From fifth (left) to first (right), these are the winners in the primary division of the Cardiff cross country race: Front row: Danielle Casey, Tina Costello, Kristin Yateman, Jamie Pettes and Aleka Lilius. Elementary schools compete in first all-county cross country race

by MARTHA PERKINS
Editor

It was an exhausting way to get students from across the county together in one place, but it was worth it.

On Friday, the Cardiff Public School hosted the first county-wide cross country races. Students from every elementary school participated: Cardiff, Wilberforce, Gooderham, Haliburton, Minden and Dorset.

But just because it's the first, doesn't mean that it will be the last, says Cardiff Principal Rosie Kenney. "We hope it's only the beginning of county events," she told the dozens of students gathered at the school's windy playground.

Six-year-old Jamie Pettes from Archie Stouffer Elementary School was one of the youngest competitors. She came in second in the girls primary category. To get ready for the event, "I ran up and down, up and down the stairs (at home) and touched the cupboard 15 times. It was night time but we still did it." She also ran with 12-year-old Cheryl Smith, who was the first girl to cross the finish line in the intermediate category. Cheryl's teammate, Glenn McGuire, ran three kilometres every day. He came in third.

Over at Victoria Street School, "coach" Nancy Bishop said her seven runners did regular exercises and ran around the school yard. "I think my team was fabulous because they all tried their best and had a great time," she says. "And we're all really happy with the results."

When Gooderham principal Ruth Lewis was asked how her 17 competitors practised, she said "we didn't really. But since we did so well, I think we'll start a training program."

One of her Grade 4 students, Casper Makowski, competed with the Grade 7 and 8 students. His house burnt down two weeks early going.

The Huskies second game was at Mariposa where a very strong team outskated our boys in a well officiated, low penalty game. The final score was Mariposa 3, Haliburton 1. Haliburton's lone marker went to Matt Galbraith with Josh Burk picking up the assist.

The star of this game was young Adam Wilson, who was filling in for Brock Glendinning in net. The Atom goalie did not look out of place with the Bantams who, in some cases, were four years his senior. He stopped slapshots and breakaways to keep the game within reach while he played with the confidence of Felix Potvin. The Bantams have nicknamed him "The Cat".

Cardiff school hosts cross-country run six weeks. "He had them running around the school," says teacher Anna Nichol, who filled in for Glendinning on Friday. "Every lap was a popstick and four sticks made a kilometre... The ones who were faithful to it did very well."

Archie Stouffer students in Minden had an advantage because their cross country course is "hillier" than Cardiff's. However, it's also shorter so quite a few students were out of breath by the time they finished Cardiff's 2.5 kilometre course. (The primary competitors ran one kilometre; the junior and intermediate competitors ran the 2.5 kilometres over fairly flat terrain.)

Unfortunately, the Grades 3 and 4 Minden students were unable to attend because they had booked a tour of the dinosaur exhibit in Toronto.

In the primary and junior categories, all schools had a taste of success. But in the intermediate category, Archie Stouffer was definitely the school to beat and J. Douglas Hodgson and Cardiff had a difficult time doing it.

The following is a list of the first five winners in the three categories. Results are listed from first to fifth.

Primary, ages five to eight
Girls: Aleka Lilius, JDHES, with a time of 3:56; Jamie Pettes, ASES; Kristin Yateman, Cardiff; Tina Costello, Gooderham; and Danielle Casey, ASES. Boys: Derek Kent, Dorset, 4:03; Brandon Bowman, Wilberforce; Mark Jones, Cardiff; David Wright, Dorset; and Tim Covert, Cardiff.

Junior, ages nine to 11
Boys: Matt Selbie, JDHES, 11:36; Blaine Saunders, ASES; Ian Gerrard, Dorset; Jason Woodcock, Wilberforce; and Mark Hamilton, ASES. Girls: Amy Petrow, ASES, 13:11; Kelly Pettit, Gooderham; Jill Woodcock, Cardiff; Jennifer Cattell, JDHES; and Krista Matysek, ASES.

Intermediate, ages 12 and 13

Girls: Cheryl Smith, ASES, 12:11; Alyna Reesor, ASES; Kate Campbell, JDHES; Naomi Stephenson, ASES; and Amy Wood, JDHES. Boys: Greg Simmons, ASES, 10:53; Cameron Leonard, ASES; Glenn McGuire, ASES; Shaun Hughes, JDHES, and Jay Mole, ASES.

At the close of the day, principal Rosie Kenney thanked all of the participants for making the journey and all of the parents for volunteering to help.

Tykes show very fine form

The Jasco Major Tykes skated out on home ice Saturday morning prepared to play some aggressive, in-your-face, Fenelon Falls-style hockey. Fenelon Falls got on the scoreboard first but not before Haliburton goalie Andy (the Cat) Dawson gave the crowd a glimpse of the talent that earned him his nickname.

Haliburton was quick to retaliate when Kyle Espie got Wood on a rebound shot from a scoring attempt by Nick Judge.

The Huskies started the second period on a power play but were unable to capitalize on the Fenelon penalty and late in the period Fenelon scored again this time during a scramble in front of the Haliburton net.

Haliburton picked up steam during the last period. However Fenelon managed to squeak in one final goal. Ross Gerry, Travis Burke, Matthew Roberts, Adrian Winn, Nick Judge and Kyle Espie made some fine offensive plays, while Jeremy Moynes, Daniel Jung, Adam Hutson and Josh Fick pumped up the action in the defensive zone.

OMHA Atoms show offensive strength

The 1993/94 Haliburton OMHA Atoms are not a team to be taken lightly. This years fast forwards are Ryan Simioni, Bobby Hebert, Scot Curry, Ryan Wood, Nicholas Cochrane and Jamie Luck. The tough defense line up is Cole Glendinning, Chris Nimigon, Jamie Johnston and Danny Koz. As if this crew isn't enough to worry any team, in goal we have big, dependable Adam Wilson and Quick, in control, Brian Mulholland.

The first game this year was an exhibition game against Bancroft on October 2 in Haliburton. The end result was a 4-3 win for Bancroft but Haliburton showed great promise. Big Ryan Simioni tied the game up in the 2nd period with the help of Bobby Hebert and Ryan Wood, but Bancroft came back again and scored. With some pressure on Jamie Luck caught a pass from Scot Curry and Ryan Simioni to tie it up again. Bancroft scored twice more in the third. No player on the Haliburton team gave up. Danny Koz passed to Ryan Simioni to make another goal. It was a tremendous effort by the whole team.

October 8th saw Haliburton travel to Woodville for the first league game. Goalies Adam Wilson and Brian Mulholland were outstanding, holding Woodville off till the third period. The Atoms defensemen Danny Koz, Jamie Johnston and Chris Nimigon had their work cut out for them being short one defenseman. Bobby Hebert saw a chance for defenseman Chris Nimigon to break out so he passed up the puck and Chris skated in to tie the game up. This team works together to get the job done.

October 12th, Haliburton took on Bancroft again in another exhibition game. This time the game ended in a 2-2 tie. Goals were scored by Ryan Simioni, assisted by Bobby Hebert, and the second goal was scored by Bobby Hebert who was assisted by Chris Nimigon.

October 16th, Sutton came up to Haliburton for an exhibition game. Haliburton was off to a slow start but with great team work the final score was 8-4 for the Huskies. The first period only saw Haliburton score one, Ryan Simioni got the goal assisted by Chris Nimigon and Bobby Hebert. This combination has really started to click. Ryan Wood made a super effort and got goal number two for Haliburton and he was assisted by Nicholas Cochrane and Jamie Luck.

Haliburton Broke the game wide open in the 3rd period. Bobby Hebert scored, assisted by Ryan Simioni and Cole Glendinning, Nicholas Cochrane popped one unassisted and Ryan Simioni got two more, to earn himself a hat trick, one was unassisted and the other was assisted by Bobby Hebert and Nicholas Cochrane. Nicholas Cochrane turned around and scored another goal for Haliburton (unassisted). Ryan Wood received a pass from Scot Curry and Danny Koz to make it eight. Jamie Johnston held tight in his defensive position and no one got by.

This win gave the team a boost and the next league game on October 17, in Beaverton, saw the OMHA Atoms pound the oppositions goalie to a 9-1 victory. Jamie Luck opened the scoring for the Mighty Huskies in the first period, assisted by Danny Koz and Bobby Hebert. In the second period Danny Koz broke out and topped up the score with two goals, unassisted. Jamie Luck ended the second period with another goal, assists went to Ryan Wood and Scot Curry.

Going into the third period the score was 4-0 for the Haliburton Atoms. Beaverton scored in the third but Haliburton answered them back with an additional five goals. Nic Cochrane scored twice, assisted twice by Ryan Simioni and assisted once by Chris Nimigon. Ryan Simioni scored with the assist going to Chris Nimigon. Danny Koz scored another goal, unassisted, earning himself a hat trick. Ryan Simioni put in the 9th goal assisted by Nic Cochrane and Chris Nimigon. Jamie Johnston and Cole Glendinning were obviously very intimidating to the opposition as they couldn't penetrate our defense very often and if they should slip through there was not much need to worry as Brian Mulholland or Adam Wilson were using their talent only allowing one goal.

It has been a very exciting start to the year. The OMHA Atoms home games are played on Friday nights at 7:30 p.m. come on out and support this promising team.

Senior soccer team sets sights on title

by MARTHA PERKINS
Editor

After winning the Kawartha West championship with no goal scored against them during the entire season, the boys senior soccer team is ready to bring home the Kawartha trophy this week.

But as a recent game against their likely rival was to prove, it's not going to be easy.

On Tuesday, the high school team took on the team from Port Hope in an exhibition match. It is very possible that the two teams will be competing for the Kawartha championship title this Thursday, so last week's game was a way for each team to get to know the other's strengths and weaknesses.

Both teams were undefeated during this season's play. Both teams were confident that their winning streak was going to continue. Both teams were in for a surprise.

"The Port Hope team was quite startled," says HHSS coach

Walter Tose. "They were surprised that the first 10 minutes of play was in their end."

As strong winds played havoc with the ball and the players, there were no goals scored in the first half. In the second half, the ball reflected off a Haliburton player's knee into the Haliburton net. Port Hope's second goal, however, was certainly well earned, Tose says.

Haliburton had three good scoring opportunities. With one, the wind was working against them. With the next two, Port Hope's goaltender made fantastic saves.

The Redmen were also handicapped by the absence of two of their starting players. Defenseman Lutz Haedicke was put in goal, and his outstanding performance made him the star of the game, Tose says. Ryan Goodall, Darren Parsons, Jonathan Bishop and Bill Bradley also made significant contributions. Nico Haedicke was once again the steady player who Tose has come to rely on.

"The game was a real confidence builder because there's always a psychological factor of convincing them that they can play as well as teams from the south," Tose says.

The Kawartha championship games are at LCVI in Lindsay this Thursday. Haliburton first plays against a team from Peterborough; Port Hope plays against the other team from Peterborough. It is expected that Haliburton and Port Hope will win their games and meet each other in an exciting battle for the trophy.

Haliburton advanced to the Kawartha after beating LCVI 1-0 two weeks ago. The game's only goal was scored by Tai Gerrard with just a couple of minutes left in the match, making for some very good soccer. Darren Parsons set up the goal.

This is the first time in Tose's coaching career that the HHSS team has had no goals scored against it during the regular season.

Jasco Tykes net 15 goal victory

Despite increased effort and checking the Huskies were unable to come back. Final score Fenelon Falls 3, Haliburton 1.

Four hours later the Tykes faced a team from Sunderland. After two tough first games with Fenelon the Haliburton players were ready for a big win and a big win it was - 15 goals for the Haliburton team and a lone goal for Sunderland.

Individual player points earned were Moynes (2), Fick (1), Espie (8), Jung (2), Burke (3), Judge (3), Winn (5), Roberts (3), Gerry (10) and Hutson (1). Wow!! That's a lot of passing and scoring!

It was a long game for Sunderland who was clearly out-matched. The Sunderland player must be commended for their winning attitude. They kept their cool and never gave up. Watch out for this team in the future.

Next game Oct. 30 at 11 a.m. Cannington at Haliburton.

Party's ideas outlined

Editor's Note: The newspaper gremlins were at work at the Echo last week when we misplaced the National Party's election campaign pitch. We publish it this week with an apology to the National Party's local campaign team.

by MARTIN DOYLE
National Party of Canada

The Canadian people have totally lost faith in the current processes that govern our country and our lives. Once lost, re-connecting the credibility gap is extremely difficult. Clearly, there can be no political democracy in Canada without economic democracy.

The will of the Canadian people cannot be frustrated and denied simply because the party elected to power has been financed in whole or in part by corporations, trade unions or special interest groups. Electoral reform is a key platform of the National Party. The National Party of Canada will change federal election laws so that all political parties can only be financed by individual Canadians.

Electoral reform is not a new idea. The Lortie Royal Commission on Electoral Reform and Party Financing was a two-year, $18 million study commissioned by the Mulroney government. None of the key recommendations were ever implemented. Your tax dollars at work!

The National Party will bring in legislation to end the corporate expensing of lobbying fees. Freer voting for MP's must not be co-opted by big spending lobbyists. If political parties can be bought, why put individual MP's at risk?

The office of the Auditor General must be strengthened to ensure that all government contracts are awarded on the basis of a tendered bidding process, price, quality, reliability, and other factors rather than patronage and pork-barrel.

All appointments to government Boards, Agencies, Crown Corporations and other such government institutions will be awarded on the basis of merit instead of on the basis of patronage.

MPs and Senators must not be allowed to set their own salaries, pension and perks. The NPC would have a non-partisan, independent public board make those decisions.

These are just a sampling of the ways in which the national Party believes that the faith in the political process can be re-established with the Canadian public.

In the first quarter of 1993, Canadians visiting the United States alone spent almost $3 billion in tourist dollars. This during a time of supposed economic crisis. The Americans only spent $575 million in Canadian travel.

The inns, country fairs, pristine lakes and rivers, country restaurants, theatrical performances, festivals and artists' and crafts-peoples' studio tours make Haliburton perhaps the most sophisticated and scenic travel experience in Canada.

I see the need for a strong federal education, advertising and promotions campaign to "Experience Canada", with a complimentary local campaign for individual areas; plus a three year "sin tax" on foreign leisure travel. Nearly $2-1/2 billion deficit in tourism in one-quarter is a sin!

It's time for all Canadians to put Canada first. This is the message of the National Party of Canada.

BEWARE OF DOG: No one would dare dump their garbage after hours at the Haliburton landfill now that this dog is on patrol. He doesn't even have to leave his dog house to get attention. Watch for him as you leave the dump.

Flames put on heat, beat dogged Huskies

Opps Flames came to Haliburton for the opening game of the Minor Tyke season on Saturday.

The Flames put on the heat early with two goals in the first period and one goal early in the second. Trailing by three Haliburton started to cool the Flames, with 6:33 left in the second, Justin Abbs scored his first goal of the season on a nice set up by Jesse Johnson and Jonathon Sharpley. Three minutes later Jesse Johnson beat the Flames goalie unassisted. Nick Chumbley and Justin Abbs sent Jesse in to tie the game just 11 seconds later.

With 2:14 left in the second Justin Abbs burned the Flames goalie with a hard shot that put Haliburton out in front 4-3, assists went to Jonathon Sharpley and Jesse Johnson.

This seemed to reignite the Flames as they answered back with three quick goals.

Haliburton worked hard in the third to narrow the gap.

With 5:37 left in the third Jesse Johnson completed his hat trick on a nice pass from Jonathon Sharpley. It was a very exciting finish with Haliburton losing 6-5.

Adam Trueman played a strong game in net with plenty of help from his defensemen Nick Chumbley, Adam Sisson, and Joshua Brown, Greg Nimigon's line with Dylan Metcalfe and Chris Marlin worked very hard to help keep the game close.

The Minor Tykes first road trip of the year was to Minden on Sunday. This was a very fast game with both teams playing for keeps. Jesse Johnson scored for Haliburton with 3:28 left in the first period on a nice set up from Justin Abbs and Gregory Nimigon. The second period was fought hard with Adam Trueman kicking and diving to keep Haliburton out front 1-0.

Just 28 seconds into the third Haliburton broke out of their own end with two perfect passes from Nick Chumbley and Chris Marlin to send Jonathon Sharpley flying down the ice on a breakaway. With two Minden Monarchs in hot pursuit Jonathon turned it on and beat them and the goalie with a crisp wrist shot. The crowd went wild as the boys were really putting on a show.

Minden fought back with two goals late in the third to tie the game. The last two minutes had the crowd dangling by a thread as they watched Adam Trueman at his best.

The game ended in a tie but they all felt like winners. It should be an exciting year. The boys are hungry and the parents are hooked.

Wolves keep on running

The Wolves continue to slice the ice with wins all over Central Ontario.

On Sat. Oct. 16, The wolves were in Cannington to play Richmond Hill-Vaughn. The Wolves easily took the lead in the first period by a score of 4-1. R.H.V. toughened up for the remainder of the game, making the Wolves fight to maintain their lead. R.H.V. scored the only goal in the third. The Wolves goaltending team helped to support this win. Final score, Wolves 5, R.H.V. 2. Scoring: Justin Williams two goals, one assist; Jason Brumwell, Nick Kulas and Andrew Oke one goal each; Cam DeYoung 2 assists; Kevin Vandergest, Corrie West, Mike Patrick, Rod Porter and Dan Jordan one assist each.

In the second game of the weekend on Sunday The Wolves travelled to the Thornhill Community Centre to play Markham. It looked like it was going to be a tough match with Markham scoring the only goal of the first period. But the Wolves howled eight goals past Markham, relentlessly checking them into the ice, throwing Markham off their game plan totally. Scoring: Justin Williams three goals; Mike Patrick, Nick Kulas one goal, one assist each; Rod Porter, Jason Malcolm and Dan Jordan one goal each; Brad Moore, Corrie West two assists each; Kenny Ablett, Blake Alysforth and Marshall Kennedy, one assist each.

The Wolves played the Peterborough Petes in the only game of this past weekend, Sat.

Oct. 23.

The Wolves played shorthanded for eight consecutive minutes in a penalty filled first period and the Petes capitalized on the power play to score the goal. The wolves get started by returning the favor, scoring their own power play goal early in the second. The Petes matched with a go-ahead goal, until the Wolves bounded back with two more by period's end. The Petes took back the lead by scoring two more goals early in the third, determined to win this game. But the Wolves stamped out the Petes' fire when they assure their win with three final goals for the victory.

Final score Wolves 6, Petes 3.

Farm house a fascinating place on a bit of a rise. Constructed of squared logs with white chinking in between, it seemed far removed from the cars that passed it at the end of the lane. The glass in its windows were old and wavy, looking back at the world with a guarded, introspective stare. The sagging porch off the summer kitchen had seen better days and the root cellar had collapsed years before.

In better repair were the garage, the machine shed and best of all, the barn, which stood like a castle on the highest point of land. Although the barn was majestically intriguing for the children, with its piles of straw and swooping swallows, it was the house that held the most fascination.

The house was of another century, its various surfaces and contents communicating a secret knowledge of the past. Faded old rugs, worn bare in spots, covered the pine floors. Creaking metal beds with multicoloured quilts were jammed into tiny closetless bedrooms built for sleeping, nothing more. Even the sunlight that filtered into the main room through the lace curtains seemed different once it entered the house.

When the children visited the farm and its house, the hair on the back of their necks would start tingling before they had climbed out of the car. They knew they always found something different, heard something odd or felt something unexplainable every time they stayed in that house.

The moment they stepped into the kitchen, they entered a different world. Here the air held a distinct mix of smells like no other place and the very light was unusual. Soft and indistinct, it cloaked the house and everything in it with a slightly out-of-focus unreality. Sometimes one of them would walk into a bedroom and feel that someone had just got up from the bed. There would be a soft indentation in the mattress and a flutter of the old jacket hanging on the hook by the door.

The trunk in the attic never ran out of new oddities, no matter how many times they thought they had emptied it. Upon a return visit it always produced a whole new selection of strange and unpredictable finds. There were ancient photos of stiff strangers who looked back at them with wide eyes and unsmiling lips. There were stiff collared dresses and thick woolly pants, a plaster-faced doll with loose limbs and bloomers. The children would huddle around the chest, gazing into its depths while torn between touching the new treasures and slamming the lid down tight.

On dark fall nights they would sit around the cook stove in the kitchen and listen to stories of headless riders running the roads and banshees circling the house. They heard of an uncle who could still be heard playing his fiddle as he sat on his rocking chair atop one of the farm hills. Tales of black horses, apparitions and mysterious lights floating through the house made their eyes grow big and their hair rise.

When Halloween came around every year, the children had no problem finding costumes or getting into the spirit of the night. They simply borrowed an item from the farm, a hat or piece of curtain, and the rest seemed to fall into place. It was almost like magic. But they always made certain they returned the borrowed item. They did not want to bring the farm home for keeps.

Tips on preventing drug abuse

by SHEILA ZIMAN
Drug Awareness Week
Co-ordinator

Here are some tips for parents who would like to help prevent drug and alcohol abuse by helping their children make informed decisions.

Take the time to attend drug and alcohol abuse presentations offered in the community. The Addiction Research Foundation will have a table set up with up-to-date information on all aspects of substance use and abuse at the Opening Ceremonies of Drug Awareness Week on Friday, November 12, 1993 at Hart Lodge from 7-9 p.m.

Help your children become knowledgeable about drugs

(tobacco, alcohol, inhalants and illicit drugs) so they will be able to separate the truth from incorrect ideas and myths that they will hear.

Encourage your children to ask questions. Make them feel there is no such thing as a stupid question. Give them opportunities to join in discussions with the rest of the family. Value their opinions.

Parental role modelling can have a great influence. You can teach responsible, health-conscious decisions with your own choices around the use of alcohol/tobacco and other drugs.

Share with your children the values that influence your decisions and encourage them to think through their own values.

Anticipate situations your children may face and assist them to work out how to handle these in advance. For example, talk about how to avoid rides with impaired drivers. Help them to accept the discomfort they will often feel if they decline to "join the party".

Help your child to develop a strong value system as this can help them say "no" to alcohol/drugs, and can give them the courage to make decisions on facts rather than peer pressure.

Drink and drive and you'll get a set of new wheels.

You can lose a lot more than your licence drinking and driving.

No thank-you supper for Warden

by LINDA SHUTT
Staff Reporter

The following are brief reports of items discussed at the October 20 meeting of county council, which was held at Hyland Crest Senior Citizens' Home in Minden.

No supper....

After losing out on his motion to disband the planning department, (see separate story) Anson, Hindon, Minden Reeve Bern Berry won a small nod to fiscal restraint when council passed his proposal that this year's Warden's Banquet be cancelled. It's estimated it will save about $4,000. Berry thought one banquet per three-year council term was enough. Hans Stevens seconded the motion. Guests usually include past county councillors, provincial dignitaries and neighbouring wardens.

HELP....

The 911 service being offered by Bell Canada could cost the county between $50,000 and $150,000 a year. The telephone company would bill all its customers to pay for the installation costs of a central switching system and a central receiving and dispatch centre. The county's consideration of a 911 service is complicated by distances and the fact that part of the eastern county has a 613 area code. The other problem is addresses. Without a planned, co-operative effort duplicated addresses could create difficulties for response teams. County planner Mark Stagg recommended to council that they establish an advisory committee to take a look at the problems of 911 installation. Stagg's letter was received by council without comment.

"Not a happy one"

After three major cuts this year, and social contract negotiations, the county's social services budget faces a "worst case scenario" shortfall of $93,000. Bicroft Reeve Hans Stevens prefaced his report on social services by saying "It's not a very happy one." Department Director Morris Honeyman later told the Echo the summer was a good one, with resorts hiring and good weather keeping the social service rolls down. But the budget cuts mean the seasonal increases to the welfare rolls for the fall and winter could find the department short of money.

There were 103 new requests for assistance in September that require review. The department already had a caseload of 524 for that month. The department's gross budget for the year is $3,587,970. The county is responsible for 20 per cent of the budget, with the province paying the remainder.

Hyland Crest

Hyland Crest Senior Citizens' Home has bought 12 new beds for its residents at a cost of $10,044. Work being done on the chimney at the home is also on track. Director of nursing Phyllis Hiltz-Bontje has been named to sit on the community advisory board of the Kingston Psychiatric Hospital.

Resignation

The council received the official letter of resignation from Debbie Hilkers, former chair of the public liaison committee for the waste management program. She said "internal miscommunication, lack of co-operation and understanding" had led her to believe "further efforts at this time would be a waste of time, effort and money." She said she still supported the planning and implementation process for a waste management system but not in its present form.

County must work together Warden says

by LINDA SHUTT
Staff Reporter

Although he said it wasn't his farewell address, Haliburton County Warden Chris Hodgson, whose one-year term as head of county council is up next month, gave a wrap up, state-of-the-county speech at the close of last Wednesday's council meeting.

He said the council's election promise of fiscal responsibility had been met, with the county doing a good job of controlling tax increases, helping to keep the area more affordable than its neighbours.

But he said the county needs strategic planning and warned the council against getting to wrapped up in debates on the roles of lower and upper tier government.

"We have to think as a community."

The Wace Report had outlined the challenges faced by the county, challenges which had to be laid out and faced one at a time.

"We have to look at ways to co-operate. If we don't we'll have to raise taxes."

Provincial pressure had forced the county to face new budget challenges as it struggles to provide services to its residents.

"We're running a meat and potatoes operation, but we've kept taxes lower. We've met our obligations and a lot of people have benefited from our two years," said Hodgson.

WORKPLACE HEALTH AND SAFETY AGENCY Certification Program (Bill 208)

By now, all workplaces having 20 or more workers will have received a pamphlet outlining new legislation that requires them to have a joint health and safety committee with at least two certified members - one representing the employer and the other representing workers. In order to become certified, employers must ensure that members are registered in the Certification Training Program, which is offered by the 12 health and safety delivery organizations, under the authority of the Workplace Health and Safety Agency.

Register now for upcoming courses.

Happy Halloween

A Tricky Bus Driver

My dad drives the school bus for our school in Gooderham. Last year he decided it would be fun to play a joke on us kids. He got one of the older kids from Gooderham to help him. He made a scarecrow-looking dummy out of straw with pants and a shirt and he made the head out of a stuffed pillowcase. Then he put the scarecrow to sit on one of the seats on the bus on Halloween morning. As we all got on the bus, no one was really very scared of the dummy because it looked sort of silly. And we all knew it was only a dummy. Then after school was over we all got on the bus and the dummy was still sitting there in the seat. I sat beside the dummy on the way home. We had only gone a short way when all of a sudden the dummy jumped out of the seat and waved his arms and screamed and yelled. All of us on the bus especially me screamed our heads off. My dad had gotten his friend Troy to dress up to look just like the dummy to scare us. And it worked but it was fun!

Happy Halloween!

The Echo would like to thank all the children who submitted their Halloween stories. They were all TERRIFIC! Make sure you're not alone when you read them, because you might get scared. Our apologies for not having room for all the stories we received.

There's a bit of confusion about when Halloween will be celebrated. As it stands, most municipalities have not changed the date from Sunday to Saturday. And many municipalities are hosting Halloween parties which can take the place of door to door visiting.

Meanwhile, the Echo still wants to hear some stories from local children. Why not write about Remembrance Day and why it is important? Or tell us why you think that Haliburton County is the best place in the world to live.

Remember, the Echo is for people of all ages!

MONSTER MADNESS

I WENT TO SCHOOL. MISS HILL WAS A WITCHIE. THE DOORS BROKE. EVERYONE TURNED INTO A MONSTER. EVERYONE WAS SCARED. WE WERE PEOPLE AGAIN. NO BODY WAS SCARED AGAIN. WE STARTED WORKING AGAIN. MISS HILL WASN'T A WITCHIE ANY MORE.

A SPOOKY STORY

One night I saw a witch. I stared at her. Then the witch said do not stare at me. I ran as fast as I could. When I got home there was no one there. The door was locked. I did not know what to do. I ran somewhere. I looked around. I saw the grave yard. It was spooky. Then I saw another witch. She was even spookier than the other one. She was there to visit her friend Joe. I stood there listening to them. Then they saw me. Then I ran somewhere else. then I saw my mom. But she did not see me. I yelled for her. But she did not hear me. so I ran back home. Then I waited for her to get back home. Then I saw her.

A Brave Boy

I went in a haunted house and I wasn't even chicken. I was brave. I went left. I went to the kitchen. I fell in a booby trap. The booby trap was like a secret exit. I found myself out of the haunted house. I never went back again.

Ross Gerry,
Grade 2, Victoria Street School

A goblin, a devil and fire

One night I came back from school. I saw a bat. I ran inside and in front of me there was a ghost and a witch. I went upstairs. There was a goblin and a devil and a fire. I jumped out of the window of my pop's house. My pop was a pumpkin and the dog was a black cat.

Travis Burke,
Grade 2, Victoria Street School

Witch Casts Spell

One Wednesday night when I got off the bus I saw slime on the roof it was scary then I went to open the door and out jumped three ghosts and I almost fainted. Then I opened the fridge, out flew some bats then I opened my closet door and I saw a witch with warts and she cast a spell and turned me into a frog so I took a drink of magic water and turned back into my self, but I could not find my mom and dad. I looked in my moms room and they were tied up by an alien so I untied them.

Krysta Dickenson,
Grade 2, Victoria Street School

What's that?

Once upon a time there was a boy named Tyler. He walked past a grave yard and suddenly he saw two glowing eyes so he jumped over the fence and went to the spot where they were but they weren't there so he went home and went to his friends house and played for a while then Tyler went home and ate dinner. After his dinner he went up stairs to get ready for bed. Just then I saw the glowing eyes again so I turned on the lights. It was only my cat.

The Devil & A Pitchfork

I had a nightmare. I went down stairs and what did I see? The devil. I yelled Mommy Daddy Help!!! They didn't come. I was scared. he chased me through the house poking me with his pitchfork. So I had an idea. I ran upstairs. I went into my bedroom and I locked the door and looked in my closet. I saw my girl devil costume. I put it on. It was from last years Halloween. The devil pulled the door down. I was not scared of him because I had my devil costume on. When the devil took a look at me his eyes had hearts in them. He quickly took off his costume. It turned out to be my friend Arlin. We went trick or treating together. We had fun. We got apples, caramel candles, likerice, Garfield candles chocolate bars and gum. We didnt play tricks on the people because it's not nice. Then we went home. It was getting late so our moms read us bedtime stories. It was school tomorrow. I was surprised that I had the same bedtime story that night. It was Berenstain Bears Scary Halloween.

This is Mike Harris.

A lot of people know him as "The Taxfighter" because he's been battling taxes for eight years. As a father of two young boys, he understands the need to reform education as a successful small businessperson, he knows how red tape and taxes can kill jobs and as a champion of direct democracy, he believes in giving the public a real say in developing policy.

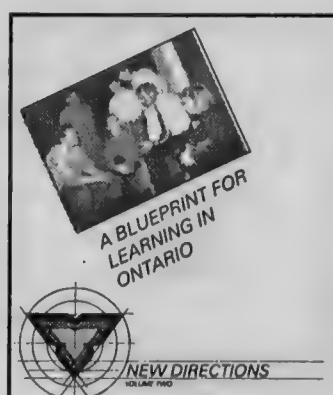

The Mike Harris program of public consultation began in November of 1991 with the first paper in the New Directions series. Since then ... through Task Forces and public hearings ... by phone, FAX and mail ... tens of thousands of Ontarians have had their concerns and ideas included in policy decisions.

MIKE HARRIS has something to share with you.

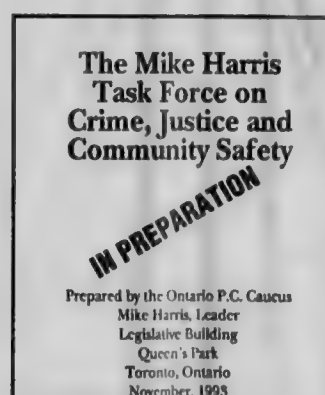

New Directions Vol. I

This paper addresses Ontario's economic problems and details PC Leader Mike Harris' proposals for developing comprehensive economic strategies and for bringing jobs back to Ontario. It was first published in the Fall of '91 and is currently being updated.

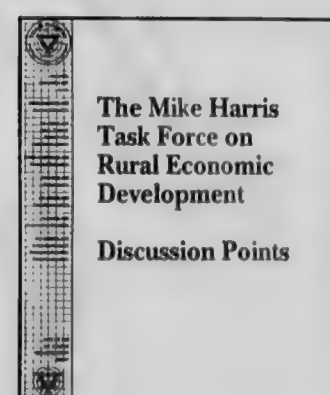

New Directions Vol. II

For those teachers, parents, students and concerned citizens who feel that Ontario's education system needs to be revamped, this paper is for you! To promote the key themes of excellence, opportunity and accountability in education, Volume II examines a series of policy alternatives.

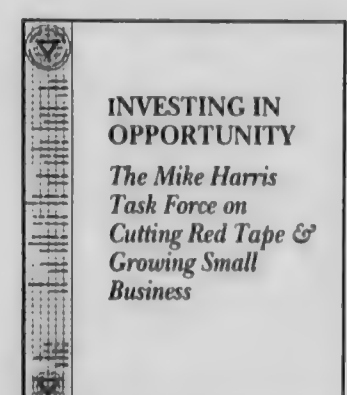

New Directions Vol. III

We launched the Crime, Justice & Community Safety Task Force in January '93. By travelling Ontario to hold public hearings, and by distributing discussion materials, we have been able to prompt public response. The results will be published in Volume III.

New Directions Discussion Paper

We held the first Task Force on Rural Economic Development in August of '93. So far, we've heard from people in Sparta, Simcoe, Delhi, Woodstock, Tillsonburg, Eastwood, Haliburton, and Lindsay. We will spend a year visiting towns and looking for new opportunities. Then we'll publish the results.

New Directions Discussion Paper

Despite creating 80% of our jobs, small business in Ontario is being strangled by taxes and paper. Mike Harris said "enough" and launched The Task Force on Cutting Red Tape and Growing Small Business this fall. The results will be published in 1994.

Help Beautify Hyland Crest:

If you are digging up or moving your perennial flowers and plants this fall, we at Hyland Crest would appreciate if you would donate some to us to beautify our home. Any plants you could spare may be given to Jean Robson of Hyland Crest Auxiliary, phone number 286-2737. Thank you.

We were pleased to have Scott Gartshore to play his guitar and sing for us on Saturday.

Most residents able to go out, spent Thanksgiving with their families. A delicious dinner was served to those unable to go out. Some had family with them. I spent the day with Terry, Norma and Norma's mother. We went to West Guilford Baptist church, had lunch and dinner out and drove around looking at the beautiful scenery.

To help us spend Thanksgiving Monday, Ruth and Jack Foster came to play mouth organ and guitar, and sing for us. It was very enjoyable.

Tuesday, Chapel Service was taken by Pastor Fast. The residents enjoyed his service greatly. At noon the United Church held its fellowship luncheon in the auditorium. Crafts were held in the craft room in the afternoon and Corinne Arsenault had cards for us in the evening.

Silverts were here with their clothing, so most of the day was spent looking over their stock. In the evening, Earl Cooper and Don White came to play music.

The Haliburton Catholic Church Ladies provided a delicious tea for our

Thursday tea party. The ladies were Gina Salvatori, Aileen Shelbie, Eva Q'Hara, Grace Berardi, Gladys and Joan Heppleston. Victoria Formica came to cheer her friends. Lucille Clarke played several numbers on the piano. We had a happy afternoon and thank the ladies heartily. In the evening, Kathy Woods called bingo for us.

Ed and Billie Pickard who play the accordion and tom tom drums were here for happy hour. They make for a lively afternoon and we love to have them. Pearl Cowen tended the bar and our helpers were Bonnie Fullen, Dottie Muirhead and Mary Guillemain.

As I sat relaxing after supper, watching what was being done I thought it was time someone let the dietary staff know what a good job they are doing. They work away, helping everyone, always cheerful and trying to satisfy all our complaints. I for one sincerely appreciate them.

And all the residents extend a sincere thank you.

Ingoldsby and Avery have charming wedding

Dorset

Phyllis Briscoe - 766-2237

We wish a very happy birthday to Paul Morley who celebrated on Oct. 20th.

A lovely wedding took place on October 9th when Diane Ingoldsby of Scarborough and Stephen Avery were united in marriage at the Mission Church at Seabreeze Road. Officiating was Rev. Eric Sisal.

Diane's Matron of Honour was Lauri Maitland and Feam Avery was the Bridesmaid. Mark

McLennan was best man and Richard was an usher. A reception was held at the Dorset Recreation Centre followed by dancing to the music of Andy MacKay.

The couple is wished many years of happiness.

The Lions Club Loto Calendars are now available, it's a chance to win various prizes each month during the year. I understand there were over a dozen winners in this locality during last year's calendar sale. Contact any Lion member if you wish to participate. Our Dorset Lions Club do many act of kindness

Former member is honoured

Minden Women's Institute

Jeanne Sears - 286-1538

The monthly meeting of Minden Women's Institute was at "The Terrace" on the afternoon of Oct. 20 with twenty member and two guests present. President Jean Lacey welcomed all and mentioned that District President Eleanor Crane also was present. Irene Moore reported sending 16 cards since the last meeting and collections were taken for Card Fund and Pennies for Friendship. The Convenor Freda Hulbig, read a few notes from current newspapers.

The president lead a short

Memorial service with prayers on the death of a member, Joyce Hewitt. A donation will be made in memory of her.

Hallowe'en dance is this Friday

West Guilford

Eleanor Cooper - 754-2278

Costume ready? Hallowe'en Dance happens at the Centre on Oct. 29th. Come and enjoy the adult version of Hallowe'en before the kids go roaming on the 30 or 31 for tricks or treat.

Maple Lake United Church reports a successful bazaar and tea on Oct. 9th. their cookbooks are still available at $6.00.

Kathleen Owens has returned from visiting in London, Ont., Pickering and Barrie over the last few weeks.

Other Thanksgiving company included the Bill Hlywka's home from Welland for that weekend and Ross and Joan Stamp of Orono at Delaine and Lyle Sawyer's.

Orval Morrison has been in Sudbury hospital for assessment of heart problems. He is expected home soon and good wishes go out for his recovery.

Murray and Dorothy Hadlow of Mississauga were visitors last weekend at Carol and Ted Duncan's.

Open house at WeeCare

FUN, FUN, FUN: Chloe Kitchman and Kenton Winn enjoy the toys at WeeCare's open house.

Week of the child celebrated

The Child Care Forum of Haliburton County recently celebrated the Week of the Child, October 16 - 23! Many exciting events were planned by the various child care programs across our County in celebration of our most precious resource - our children.

Wee Care hosted an Open house on Wednesday, October 20th. This provided a wonderful opportunity for parents of children attending this program or anyone interested in Wee Care's program to pop in, meet the teachers and view first hand their terrific facilities.

The Dorset Children's Centre, a licensed child care facility located in the north end of our county, also hosted an Open House and Tea on Thursday, October 21st, to provide their community with an opportunity to see their centre. A special invitation was extended to seniors in the community in the hopes of enhancing their involvement in the centre's activities, e.g. reading circles.

Cardiff Nursery School, a licensed nursery program serving the more southerly region of the county, continued with its quality program throughout the week, just as they have for the past 13 years! A lovable, purple dinosaur made a special appearance at C.H.A.C.E. Day Care Centre on Tuesday the 19th, at C.H.A.C.E. Place, Minden Resource Centre on Wednesday the 20th and at C.H.A.C.E. Place, Haliburton Resource Centre on Thursday the 21st.

The Child Care Forum held its regular monthly meeting this same day as well. The Child Care Forum, a sub-committee of the Social Action Committee, was established in the fall of 1992 as a result of a recommendation from the 1990 study, Child Care: The new Heritage, Child Care Strategic Plan for Haliburton County, conducted by Nancy M. Draper Consultants. Ms. Draper recommended that our county establish a forum comprised of representatives from the following sectors of the child care community: families; provincial, county and municipal governments; day care and nursery school centres; resource centres; independent care providers; the school board; community college; the special needs community and the Social Action Committee, to address the recommendations contained in her final report.

By the spring of 1993, the forum was well established, having developed its four, primary working goals:

- to advocate on behalf of families and their child care needs;
- to establish and maintain a strategy for continued planning and research on child care issues;
- to raise community awareness of child care issues; and

- to establish and maintain linkages among the child care community, the larger community and the various levels of government.

Two working groups have also been developed to assist in the work of the Child Care Forum: The Working Group on Children with Special Needs and the Flexible Child Care models Working Group. These working groups have developed several creative projects in their short tenure including advocating for the integration of children with special needs into child care programs; recommending funding of a school-aged child care program for the Haliburton area; as well as networking and sharing information and skills with child Care Forums in four other counties.

For more information on the Child Care Forum of Haliburton County, please call the Social Action Committee, 457-1888.

Community news

Vacationers and hunters certainly getting around

Coboconk

Sheila Lake - 454-2314

Vera Burtchall and daughter, Heather, are home after a very enjoyable trip to England and Scotland. Weather was beautiful in Scotland, but it was very rainy in England.

Best wishes to Myrtle Faulkner, who celebrated her 82nd birthday on Oct. 10th. Mr. and Mrs. Larry Metcalf and family of Campbellford were Thanksgiving visitors with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Kay and Marilyn.

Mr. and Mrs. Doug Hirstwood and boys, Mrs. Carol Strong and Peter all of Buller Rd., Norland and Mr. and Mrs. Clint Hirstwood and family all were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hirstwood and family at Sutton on Thanksgiving.

Yves and Marg Lamoureux, enjoyed a holiday with several family members at Sudbury, returning to work at the Beer Store on Oct. 11th.

Fred and Dorothy Shackleton have moved from Norland, to the Demoe house here, on Grandy Road.

Pat Purdy, a 25-year employee of Ontario Hydro of Fenelon Falls, has retired and her help to many customers, will be missed very much. Hope you enjoy the years of retirement ahead. Pat!!

My sister, Denna White of Ajax, and I took a drive north and especially enjoyed visiting Ingoldsby last weekend and called on the John Hulbig family to talk over our family history. Their niece and family from St. Joseph, Michigan, were visiting the Hulbigs on Highway 121, Minden. Their niece's husband is a Church of Christ Minister in Michigan.

The Knox United Church Women, Coboconk, held a pumpkin tea and bazaar at the church on Oct. 23rd, 1993.

The Ladies fellowship breakfast was held at the Gull's Nest Restaurant on Saturday morning, Oct. 16th.

The Coby Seniors held their quilt draw on Oct.

13th with Jim Hannivan making the draw. Lucky winners are: First prize, quilt, June Barker of Bobcaygeon; Second Prize, $50, R. Bruce of Scarborough; Third Prize, Book of Wintario tickets, Denise Dunnett of Whitby.

The Masonic Lodge members and wives, enjoyed a bus trip to the Barrie race track to watch harness racing on Sat. Oct. 16th and enjoyed a buffet dinner.

We enjoyed the Grand Ole night of Country music, with Mac Wiseman at the Academy Theatre, on the weekend. We saw several Coby area residents, also there to enjoy the music.

O.P.P. Constable Al Lee, a Coboconk detachment policeman since 1985, has retired from the force. He was a policeman in Orillia from 1968, before transferring here.

A dinner and dance for Al and his wife Marion, their family, friends and fellow officers, was held on Oct. 2nd. May you enjoy your retirement and time of leisure in the years ahead, Al!

Sue Douglas of Burnt River, was honored by Somerville and County Council, and residents on Sat. Oct. 2nd for her many years of public service, on council in community affairs, the Fire Dept., and with Children's Aid.

Sympathy goes out to the families who have lost loved ones the past week. Danny Bradimore, Wilfred Young and Richard Magee all passed away within days of each other and were laid to rest in Pinegrove Cemetery, Norland.

Ivan Tufts has been transferred to Ross Memorial Hospital, from Toronto General Hospital, where he had surgery.

Ruth Schell Fralick has been moved from Whitby to Victoria Manor in Lindsay, where she would enjoy a visit from her friends and relatives from Coboconk and Little Britain.

Clara Schell recently enjoyed a holiday in Sault Ste. Marie with Mrs. Gladys Forfar and her family.

A good number of hunters have gone moose hunting to far north areas. Geraldton, Massey, Timmins, etc. However, there are moose right around here, and maybe the hunting is just about as good at home! Halloween is almost here and masks and costumes are prominent in stores, and stacks of beautiful big orange pumpkins are ready to be taken home and lovingly carved into a jack-o-lantern!!

The leaves seem more reluctant to fall this fall, but the heavy rains of the weekend have urged many to leave the trees.

New residents are welcomed

Extendicare

John Menzies

October 25, 1993: The residents and staff wish to extend a warm welcome to two new residents, Allen Stewart, and Ethel Brennan. Ethel left us for a while but has now returned. We wish them both a long and happy stay.

With the Annual Christmas Bake Sale and Bazaar fast approaching, the Monday Crafts is buzzing with activity. Just a reminder of the Santa Claus Draffle if you don't have your ticket.

Monday night, Scottish Country Dancer night, the group ended the evening by waltzing with the residents.

Betty Salvatori visited the residents for Bible Study on Tuesday.

In the afternoon, the volunteers helped with the Bingo.

The residents who attended the Haliburton Legion enjoyed the Pot Luck Lunch Thursday.

At the Birthday Party later that night, residents were glad to have Karl Upton back to entertain. Celebrating for October is Jack Hughes, Kathleen Day, Helen McWilliams and Lila Simmons.

Gord Walsh led the Friday morning Church Service for the residents.

Extendicare mourns the passing of two residents this week, Lena Burton, and Morris Henderson.

A Special mention must be made of the Palliative Care Seminar being held this Saturday at St. Anthony's Catholic Church, 10:00 - 3pm. Guest speakers will be Rev. Paul Benson and Gord Monk.

The seminar will pause for a bag lunch. Donuts and coffee will be served.

TENDER

Haliburton Lake Wharf Removal

Tender will be accepted until Noon, November 5, 1993

The Department of Fisheries and Oceans requires that the wharf located at Lot 11, Concession V1, Haliburton Lake be demolished and removed. Any Ministry of Natural Resources permits are the responsibility of the contractor.

For more details contact the Municipal Office.

K
KNOWLEDGE
God's greatest gift to human beings is their intellect. The pursuit of knowledge is therefore a divine calling, and the means for carrying forward an ever-advancing civilization. But the beginning of all things is the knowledge of God.

330 THANK YOU

AS CHAIRPERSON for the Oktoberfest Dance which was held at the Stanhope Firefighter's Hall, I wish to thank Darlene Johnson, Chairperson for the Stanhope Recreation Committee, the people who helped on the Stanhope Recreation Committee, the Stanhope
Firemen for their kind assistance, and the businesses who supported us by donating prizes. Also thank you to the Miss Oktoberfest contestants for making it such a fun time. Sincerely Oktoberfest Dance
Chairperson, Judy Carpenter.

I WOULD LIKE to thank my loving and supporting family and all my many friends for flowers, cards, phone calls, food and prayers while I was in hospital and since returning home. A special thanks to Dr.
Heyes, Dr. Borgundvaag, Dr. Hughes and nurses in Coronary Care at Peterborough Civic. Your thoughtfulness was greatly appreciated.
Thanks again, Darlene Eade.

WE WISH TO express our appreciation to our friends and neighbours for their good wishes, cards and flowers on the occasion of our 40th wedding anniversary. Many thanks to Paul, David, Deb and the children for arranging this lovely surprise. Derek and Pam Rolfe.

I WOULD LIKE to take this opportunity to thank everyone for all their prayers, cards, floral arrangements, generous donation of money, food and phone calls during my recent illness. We really appreciated how the people of the community helped the family through those five long weeks I was in I.C.U. Special thanks to Dr.
Marshall and his residents and nursing staff at Toronto General Hospital, also the nurses in the I.C.U. at Peterborough Civic Hospital.
Geraldine Bowen and Family.

THANK YOU to everyone who helped in any way with our Jack and Jill Party, wedding shower, and our wedding. Special thanks to our parents and the wedding party for making our day so special. Love Phil and Kelly.
